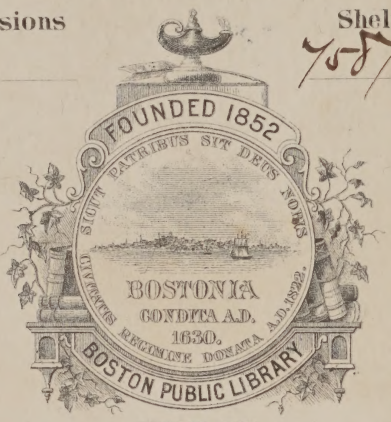
BOSTON PUBLIC LIBRARY
3 9999 08654 881 3

Accessions

Shelf No.

757.8

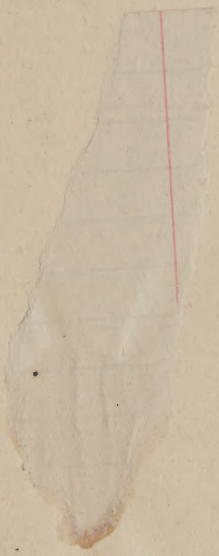


GIVEN BY

W. Phillips

June 26. 1852

Holbrook Printing Co. Boston.



Ph. covers.

LETTERS

ON AMERICAN SLAVERY

FROM

VICTOR HUGO, DE TOCQUEVILLE, EMILE DE GIRARDIN, CARNOT, PASSY, MAZZINI, HUMBOLDT, O. LAFAYETTE—&c.

BOSTON:

PUBLISHED BY THE AMERICAN ANTI-SLAVERY SOCIETY.

1860.

From 4265.64

W. Phillips
313.100
June 26, 1882

LETTERS

VICTOR HUGO ON JOHN BROWN

To the Editor of the London News:

Sir: When our thoughts dwell upon the United States of America, a majestic form rises before the eye of imagination. It is a Washington!

Look, then, to what is taking place in that country of Washington at this present moment.

In the Southern States of the Union there are slaves; and this circumstance is regarded with indignation, as the most monstrous of inconsistencies, by the pure and logical conscience of the Northern States. A white man, a free man, John Brown, sought to deliver these negro slaves from bondage. Assuredly, if insurrection is ever a sacred duty, it must be when it is directed against Slavery. John Brown endeavored to commence the work of emancipation by the liberation of slaves in Virginia. Pious, austere, animated with the old Puritan spirit, inspired by the spirit of the Gospel, he sounded to these men, these oppressed brothers, the rallying cry of Freedom. The slaves, enervated by servitude, made no response to the appeal. Slavery afflicts the soul with weakness. Brown, though deserted, still fought at the head of a handful of heroic men; he was riddled with balls; his two young sons, sacred martyrs, fell dead at his side, and he himself was taken. This is what they call the affair at Harper's Ferry.

John Brown has been tried, with four of his comrades, Stephens, Coppic, Green and Copeland.

What has been the character of his trial? Let us sum it up in a few words: —

John Brown, upon a wretched pallet, with six half gaping wounds, a gun-shot wound in his arm, another in his loins, and two in his head, scarcely conscious of surrounding sounds, bathing his mattress in blood, and with the ghastly presence of his two dead sons ever beside him; his four fellow-sufferers wounded, dragging themselves along by his side; Stephens bleeding from four sabre wounds; justice in a hurry, and overleaping all obstacles; an attorney, Hunter, who wishes to proceed hastily, and a judge, Parker, who suffers him to have his way; the hearing cut short, almost every application for delay refused, forged and mutilated documents produced, the witnesses for the defence kidnapped, every obstacle thrown in the way of the prisoner's counsel, two cannon loaded with canister stationed in the Court, orders given to the jailers to shoot the prisoners if they sought to escape, forty minutes of deliberation, and three men sentenced to die! I declare on my honor that all this took place, not in Turkey, but in America!

Such things cannot be done with impunity in the face of the civilized world. The universal conscience of humanity is an ever-watchful eye. Let the judges of Charlestown, and Hunter and Parker, and the slaveholding jurors, and the whole population of Virginia, ponder it well: they are watched! They are not alone in the world. At this moment, America attracts the eyes of the whole of Europe.

John Brown, condemned to die, was to have been hanged on the 2d of December — this very day.

But news has just reached us. A respite has been granted to him. It is not until the 16th that he is to die. The interval is a brief one. Before it has ended, will a cry of mercy have had time to make itself effectually heard?

No matter! It is our duty to speak out.

Perhaps a second respite may be granted. America is a noble nation. The impulse of humanity springs quickly into life among a free people. We may yet hope that Brown will be saved.

If it were otherwise, if Brown should die on the scaffold on the 16th of December, what a terrible calamity! The executioner of Brown, let us avow it openly (for the day of the Kings is past, and the day of the peoples dawns, and to the people we are bound frankly to speak the truth) — the executioner of Brown would be neither the attorney Hunter, nor the judge Parker, nor the Governor Wise, nor the State of Virginia; it would be, though we can scarce think or speak of it without a shudder, the whole American Republic.

The more one loves, the more one admires, the more one venerates that Republic, the more heart-sick one feels at the contemplation of such a catastrophe. A single State ought not to have the power to dishonor all the rest, and in this case there is an obvious justification for a federal intervention. Otherwise, by hesitating to interfere when it might prevent a crime, the Union becomes a participator in its guilt. No matter how intense may be the indignation of the generous Northern States, the Southern States force them to share the opprobrium of this murder. All of us, no matter who we may be, who are bound together as compatriots by the common tie of a democratic creed, feel ourselves in some measure compromised. If the scaffold should be erected on the 16th of December, the incorruptible voice of history would thenceforward testify that the august Confederation of the New World, had added to all its rites of holy brotherhood a brotherhood of blood, and the fasces of that splendid Republic would be bound together with the running noose that hung from the gibbet of Brown!

This is a bond that kills.

When we reflect on what Brown, the liberator, the champion of Christ, has striven to effect, and when we remember that he is about to die, slaughtered by the American Republic, the crime assumes an importance co-extensive with that of the nation which commits it — and when we say to ourselves that this nation is one of the glories of the human race; that, like France, like England, like Germany, she is one of the great agents of civilization; that she sometimes even leaves Europe in the rear by the sublime audacity of some of her progressive movements; that she is the Queen of an entire world, and that her brow is irradiated with a glorious halo of freedom, we declare our conviction that John Brown will not die; for we recoil horror-struck from the idea of so great a crime committed by so great a people.

Viewed in a political light, the murder of Brown would be an irreparable fault. It would penetrate the Union with a gaping fissure which would lead in the end to its entire disruption. It is possible that the execution of Brown might establish slavery on a firm basis in Virginia, but it is certain that it would shake to its centre the entire fabric of American democracy. You preserve your infamy, but you sacrifice your glory. Viewed in a moral light, it seems to me that a portion of the enlightenment of humanity would be eclipsed, that even the ideas of justice and injustice would be obscured on the day which should witness the assassination of Emancipation by Liberty.

As for myself, though I am but a mere atom, yet being, as I am, in common with all other men, inspired with the conscience of humanity, I fall on my knees, weeping before the great starry banner of the New World; and with clasped hands, and with profound and filial respect, I implore the illustrious American Republic, sister of the French Republic, to see to the safety of the universal moral law, to save John Brown, to demolish the threatening scaffold of the 16th of December, and not to suffer that beneath its eyes, and I add, with a shudder, almost by its fault, a crime should be perpetrated surpassing the first fratricide in iniquity.

For — yes, let America know it, and ponder on it well — there is something more terrible than Cain slaying Abel: It is Washington slaying Spartacus!

VICTOR HUGO.

Hauteville House, Dec. 2d, 1859.

VICTOR HUGO ON AMERICAN SLAVERY.

TO MRS. MARIA WESTON CHAPMAN.

Madame: I have scarcely anything to add to your letter. I would cheerfully sign every line of it. Pursue your holy work. You have with you all great souls and all good hearts.

You are pleased to believe, and to assure me, that my voice, in this august cause of Liberty, will be listened to by the great American people, whom I love so profoundly, and whose destinies, I am fain to think, are closely linked with the mission of France. You desire me to lift up my voice.

I will do it at once, and I will do it on all occasions. I agree with you in thinking that, within a definite time — that, within a time not distant — the United States will repudiate Slavery with horror! Slavery in such a country! Can there be an incongruity more monstrous? Barbarism installed in the very heart of a country, which is itself the affirmation of civilization; liberty wearing a chain; blasphemy echoing from the altar; the collar of a negro chained to the pedestal of Washington! It is a thing unheard of. I say more, it is impossible. Such a spectacle would destroy itself. The light of the Nineteenth Century alone is enough to destroy it.

What! Slavery sanctioned by law among that illustrious people, who for seventy years have measured the progress of civilization by their march, demonstrated democracy by their power, and liberty by their prosperity! Slavery in the United States! It is the duty of this republic to set such an example no longer. It is a shame, and she was never born to bow her head.

It is not when Slavery is taking leave of old nations, that it should be received by the new. What! When Slavery is departing from Turkey, shall it rest in America? What! Drive it from the hearth of Omar, and adopt it at the hearth of Franklin? No! No! No!

There is an inflexible logic which develops more or less slowly, which fashions, which redresses according to a mysterious plan, perceptible only to great spirits, the facts, the men, the laws, the morals, the people; or better, under all human things, there are things divine.

Let all those great souls who love the United States, as a country, be re-assured. The United States must renounce Slavery, or they must renounce Liberty. They cannot renounce Liberty. They must renounce Slavery, or renounce the Gospel. They will never renounce the Gospel.

Accept, Madame, with my devotion to the cause you advocate, the homage of my respect.

VICTOR HUGO.

6 Juillet, 1851, Paris.

LETTER FROM ALEXIS DE TOCQUEVILLE.

I do not think it is for me, a foreigner, to indicate to the United States the time, the measures, or the men by whom Slavery shall be abolished.

Still, as the persevering enemy of despotism everywhere, and under all its forms, I am pained and astonished by the fact that the freest people in the world is, at the present time, almost the only one among civilized and Christian nations which yet maintains personal servitude; and this, while serfdom itself is about disappearing, where it has not already disappeared, from the most degraded nations of Europe.

An old and sincere friend of America, I am uneasy at seeing Slavery retard her progress, tarnish her glory, furnish arms to her detractors, compromise the future career of the Union which is the guaranty of her safety and greatness, and point our beforehand to her, to all her enemies, the spot where they are to strike. As a man, too, I am moved at the spectacle of man's degradation by man, and I hope to see the day when the law will grant equal civil liberty to all the inhabitants of the same empire, as God accords the freedom of the will, without distinction, to the dwellers upon earth.

France, 1855.

LETTER FROM EMILE DE GIRARDIN.

I seize the occasion now offered me to accuse myself of having too long believed, on the faith of American citizens and French travellers, that the slavery of the blacks neither could nor ought, for their own sakes, to be abolished, without a previous initiation to liberty, by labor, instruction, economy, and redemption — an individual purchase of each one by himself.

But this belief I end by classing among those inveterate errors, which are like the rings of a chain, that even the freest of men drag after them, and even the strongest find it difficult to break.

What I once believed, I believe no longer.

Of all the existing proofs that Liberty is to be conquered or gained, not given, or dealt out by halves, the strongest proof is that, in the United States, the freest of all countries, the maintenance of Slavery is not made a question of time, but of race. Now if the reasons there alleged for the perpetuating and the legalizing of Slavery are true, they will be no less true a thousand years hence than to-day; if they are false, they have no right to impose themselves for a day, for an hour, for a moment. Error has no right against truth; iniquity has no right against equity, for the same reason that the dying have no right against death.

I hold, then, as false — incontestably and absolutely false, — all that blind self-interest and limping common-place are continually repeating, in order to perpetuate and legalize Slavery in the United States; just as I hold as false all that was said and printed before 1789, to perpetuate and legitimate serfdom; and all that is still said in Russia, in favor of the same outrage of men against the nature of man. The slavery of the blacks is the opprobrium of the whites. Thus every wrong brings its own chastisement.

The punishment of the American people is to be the last of the nations, while it is also the first. It is the first, by that Liberty of which it has rolled back the limits, and it is the last by that Slavery whose inconsistency it tolerates; for there are no slaves without tyrants. What matter whether the tyrant be regal or legal?

Paris, (Office of La Presse,) 1855.

LETTER FROM M. CARNOT.

The question of Slavery is intimately connected with questions of general policy.

The Pagan republics had Slavery for their basis. They were so organized that they could not subsist without it; and so when Slavery was shaken down, they perished. Liberty for the few, on condition of keeping the many in servitude — such was the principle of the ancient societies.

Christianity bids another morality triumph, — that of human brotherhood. Modern societies recognize the principle that each citizen increases the domain of his own liberty by sharing it with his fellows. Republican France put this principle in practice; at her two great epochs of emancipation, she hastened to send Liberty to her colonial possessions.

North America presents a sad anomaly — a contradiction to the general rule with which we have prefaced these reflections, and thence the enemies of Liberty try to justify their departure from it.

They pretend to believe that the Republic of the United States rests on a basis analogous to that of the Pagan republics; and that the application of the new morality will be dangerous to it. But it is not so. Liberty in the United States is founded on reason, on custom, on patriotism, and on experience already old. She can but gain by diffusion even to prodigality. In the United States, Slavery is more than elsewhere a monstrosity, protected only by private interests. It is a source of corruption and barbarism which delays America in the path of European civilization. It is a fatal example that she presents to Europe, to turn her from the pursuit of American independence.

Paris, 1855.

LETTER FROM M. PASSY.

Humanity is governed by laws which continually impel it to extend, without ceasing, the sphere of its knowledge. There is no discovery which does not conduct it to new discoveries; each generation adds its own to the mass which it has received from the past, and thus from age to age are the strength and riches of civilization augmented.

Now it is one of the numerous proofs of the benevolent purposes of the Creator, that every step of mental progress strengthens the ideas of duty and justice, of which humanity makes application in its acts. Human society, as it gains light, does not merely learn thereby the better to profit by its labors. It gains, at the same time, clearer and surer notions of moral order. It discerns evil where it did not at first suspect its existence; and no sooner does it perceive the evil than it seeks the means to suppress it.

This is what, in our day, has awakened so much opposition to Slavery. Thanks to the flood of light already received, society begins to comprehend, not only its iniquity in principle, but all the degradation and suffering it scatters in the lands where it exists. A cry of reprobation arises, and associations are formed to hasten its abolition.

We may, without fear, assert that it will be with Slavery as with all the other remnants of ignorance and original barbarism. The day will come when it must disappear, with the rest of the institutions which have been found inconsistant with the moral feelings to which the development of human reason gives the mastery.

Let those reflect who, at this day, constitute themselves the defenders of Slavery. They have against them the most irresistible of all powers — that of moral truth becoming more and more distinct — that of human conceptions necessarily rising with the growth in knowledge of the divine will. Their defeat is, sooner or later, inevitable.

How much wiser would they be, did they resign themselves to the preparation for a reform, the necessity for which presents itself with such inflexible urgency. It is, doubtless, a work of difficulty. Freemen require other conditions than those to which they were subjected by the lash; but the requisite changes may be effected. Wise precautions and temporary arrangements, united with the injunctions of authority, will not fail of success. Proprietors who dread emancipation! show to your people a little of that benevolence which so promptly subdues those who are unaccustomed to it, and you will find them docile and industrious as freemen. It is Slavery which corrupts and deteriorates the faculties which God has given to all for the amelioration of their destinies and the enjoyment of existence. Liberty, on the contrary, animates and develops them. Human activity rises to extend its conquests, more ingenious and energetic at her reviving breath.

May such assertions as these, conformable as they are to the experience of all ages, no longer meet in America the contradictions which are long extinct in Europe. May those States of the Union where Slavery still counts its partizans, hasten to prepare for its abolition. Storms are gathering over the seat of injustice. Prosperity, gained at the expense of humanity, flows from a source which time will necessarily dry up. There can exist no durable prosperity on earth, but in consistency with the laws of God; and his laws command men to love and serve each other as brethren.

Nice, January 28th, 1855.

LETTER FROM MAZZINI.

London, May 1, 1854.

Dear Sir: I have delayed to the present moment my answering your kind invitation, in the hope that I should, perhaps, be enabled to give a better answer than a written one; but I find that neither health nor business will allow me to attend. I must write, and express to you, and through you to your friends, how much I feel grateful for your having asked me to attend the first meeting of the "North of England Anti-Slavery Association;" how earnestly I sympathize with the noble aim you are going to pursue; how deeply I shall commune with your efforts, and help, if I can, their success. No man ought ever to inscribe on his flag the sacred word "Liberty," who is not prepared to shake hands cordially with those, whoever they are, who will attach their names to the constitution of your association. Liberty may be the godlike gift of all races, of all nations, of every being who bears on his brow the stamp of MAN, or sink to the level of a narrow and mean self-interest, unworthy of the tears of the good and the blood of the brave. I am yours, because I believe in the unity of God; yours, because I believe in the unity of mankind; yours, because I believe in the educatibility of the whole human race, and in a heavenly law of infinite progression for all; yours, because the fulfilment of this law implies the consciousness and the responsibility of the agent, and neither consciousness nor responsibility can exist in slavery; yours, because I have devoted my life to the emancipation of my own country. And I would feel unequal to this task, a mean rebel, not an apostle of truth and justice, had I not felt from my earliest years that the right and duty of revolting against lies and tyranny were grounded on a far higher sphere than that of the welfare of one single nation; that they must start from belief in a principle, which will have sooner or later to be universally applied: "One God, one humanity, one law, one love from all for all." Blessed be your efforts, if they start from this high ground of a common faith; if you do not forget, whilst at work for the emancipation of the black race, the millions of white slaves, suffering, struggling, expiring in Italy, in Poland, in Hungary, throughout all Europe; if you always remember that free men only can achieve the work of freedom, and that Europe's appeal for the abolition of slavery in other lands will not weigh all-powerful before God and men, whilst Europe herself shall be desecrated by arbitrary, tyrannical power, by czars, emperors, and popes.

Ever faithfully yours,

JOSEPH MAZZINI.

Rev. Dr. BEARD, Manchester.

ANOTHER LETTER FROM MAZZINI.

LONDON, March 21st, 1859.

DEAR SIR: I beg to apologize for being so late in acknowledging the receipt of $112 09, subscribed by you and others at the end of the lecture delivered at your institution by my friend, Mm. Jessie M. White Mario, toward our Italian school, &c.

I am very much pleased at my honored friend's first success and response to her efforts in the United States, coming from Young America, to whom Young Italy looks for sympathy and support in her approaching struggle, and my thanks are the thanks of all the members, both teachers and pupils, of our Italian school.

We are fighting the same sacred battle for freedom and the emancipation of the oppressed — you, Sir, against negro, we against white slavery. The cause is truly identical; for, depend upon it, the day in which we shall succeed in binding to one freely accepted pact twenty-six millions of Italians, we shall give what we cannot now, an active support to the cause you pursue. We are both the servants of the God who says, "Before Me there is no Master, no Slave, no Man, no Woman, but only Human Nature, which must be everywhere responsible, therefore free."

May God bless your efforts and ours! May the day soon arrive in which the word bondage will disappear from our living languages, and only point out a historical record! And, meanwhile, let the knowledge that we, all combatants under the same flag, do, through time and space, commune in love and faith, and strengthen one another against the unavoidable suffering which we must meet on the way.

Believe me, my dear Sir,

Very gratefully yours,

JOSEPH MAZZINI.

LETTER FROM N. TOURGUENEFF.

An admirable work, bearing the title, "Russia and the Russians," — on the condition and prospects of Russia, — was published in Paris, in 1847, by Monsieur Tourgueneff. This accomplished gentlemen is a Russian Noble, (exiled and under sentence of death since 1825,) for having cast in his lot with the Serfs by advocating their emancipation while minister of Finance and member of the Imperial Council of State. He is one of those truly wise and good men whose opinions cannot fail to have great influence wherever they are known. With him, Freedom is a question of fundamental right, as well as of national policy. His testimony, therefore, in regard to the Anti-Slavery struggle in America and its advocates, is deserving of the highest consideration.

Paris, September 29, 1855.

Madame, — Seeing you on the point of departing for America, I cannot forbear entreating you to be the bearer of my tribute of respect and admiration to one of your compatriots. Need I add that I have in view our holy cause of human freedom, and one of its most eminent defenders, Mr. Garrison? Every word he utters is dictated by the deepest sense of justice; but his recent discourse on the anniversary of British Colonial Emancipation is distinguished not only by its profound feeling of sympathy for the emancipated, but by that rigorously just reasoning, and that clear, firm, and above all, moral logic which leads him to prefer the separation of the States to the continuance of Slavery. It is by this trait that I recognize the true Abolitionist, and the truly worthy man. It was with the truest joy that I read those strong and noble words, each going straight to its end, acknowledging no law superior to the sentiment of right engraven in the human conscience by its divine Creator, and disdaining all the common-place sophistry of weakness and hypocrisy that is so often employed in these discussions.

Deeply touched by this discourse of Mr. Garrison, I feel that a Cause so holy, defended by such advocates, could not fail to triumph, if urged forward without delay. Every action, every word, which brings nearer the time of this triumph, is a blessing to millions of unfortunate beings.

May Almighty God crown with success the generous labors of all these noble men, who, after all, are but following the commands and walking in the ways traced by his holy will!

May I entreat of you, Madame, the kindness of presenting to Mr. Garrison the accompanying copy of my work, by which he will see that a co-laborer in another hemisphere has long wrought in the same vineyard of the Lord; if not with the same renown, I may, at least, venture to say with the same disinterestedness, with the same self-abnegation, with the same love for the oppressed. Even the efforts I made in their behalf they could never directly know, for exile and proscription have compelled me to live far from my own land, and to plead the cause of human rights in a language which is neither theirs nor mine. I am thoroughly persuaded that all success obtained in America in the cause of the colored race will be eminently serviceable to my poor countrymen in Russia. It is then, first as a man, and secondly as a Russian, that I hail the efforts of Mr. Garrison and his fellow-laborers for the deliverance of their country from the hideous plague-spot of Slavery.

Receive, Madame, my earnest good wishes for your voyage. May Heaven grant that in again beholding your native country, you may there find new consolations and fresh encouragements to persevere in the great Cause which you have made the principal object of your life.

Accept, at the same time, the expression of my high respect.

N. TOURGUENEFF.

To Mrs. Henry Grafton Chapman.

LETTER FROM HUMBOLDT.

In 1856, Baron von Humboldt caused the following letter to be inserted in the Spenersche Zeitung : —

"Under the title of Essai Politique sur l' Isle de Cuba, published in Paris in 1826, I collected together all that the large edition of my Voyage aux Regions Equinoxiales du Nouveau Continent contained upon the state of agriculture and slavery in the Antilles. There appeared at the same time an English and a Spanish translation of this work, the latter entitled Ensayo Politico sobre la Isle de Cuba, neither of which omitted any of the frank and open remarks which feelings of humanity had inspired. But there appears just now, strangely enough, translated from the Spanish translation, and not from the French original, and published by Derby and Jackson, in New York, an octavo volume of 400 pages, under the title of The Island of Cuba, by Alexander Humboldt; with notes and a preliminary essay by J. S. Thrasher. The translator, who has lived a long time on that beautiful island, has enriched my work by more recent data on the subject of the numerical standing of the population, of the cultivation of the soil, and the state of trade, and, generally speaking, exhibited a charitable moderation in his discussion of conflicting opinions. I owe it, however, to a moral feeling, that is now as lively in me as it was in 1826, publicly to complain that in a work which bears my name, the entire seventh chapter of the Spanish translation, with which my essai politique ended, has been arbitrarily omitted. To this very portion of my work I attach greater importance than to any astronomical observations, experiments of magnetic intensity, or statistical statements. "I have examined with frankness (I here repeat the words I used thirty years ago) whatever concerns the organization of human society in the colonies, the unequal distribution of the rights and enjoyments of life, and the impending dangers which the wisdom of legislators and the moderation of freemen can avert, whatever may be the form of government.

"It is the duty of the traveller who has been an eye-witness of all that torments and degrades human nature to cause the complaints of the unfortunate to reach those whose duty it is to relieve them. I have repeated, in this treatise, the fact that the ancient legislation of Spain on the subject of slavery is less inhuman and atrocious than that of the slave States on the American continent, north or south of the equator.

"A steady advocate as I am for the most unfettered expression of opinion in speech or in writing, I should never have thought of complaining if I had been attacked on account of my statements; but I do think I am entitled to demand that in the free States of the continent of America, people should be allowed to read what has been permitted to circulate from the first year of its appearance in a Spanish translation.

"ALEXANDER VON HUMBOLDT.

"BERLIN, July, 1856."

HUMBOLDT ON WEBSTER.

"For thirty years — for thirty years (and he counted them on his fingers) — you have made no progress about slavery; you have gone backward — very far backward in many respects about that. I think especially of your law of 1850, that law by which a man in a free State, where he ought to be free, can be made a slave of. That I always call the Webster law.

"I always before liked Mr. Webster. He was a great man. I knew him, and always till then liked him. But, ever after that, I hated him. He was the man who made it. If he wanted to prevent it, he could have done it. That is the reason why I call it the Webster law. And ever after that, I hated him."

I made some remarks about Mr. Webster's influence on that point not being confined to a political sphere, but of his also carrying with him that circle of literary men with whom he was connected. "Yes," said he, "it was he who did it all; and those very men not connected with politics, who ought to have stood against it, as you say, he moved with it. You came from New England, where there is so much anti-slavery feeling, and where you have learned to think slavery is bad. While you are here in Europe, you may see things which you think bad; but I know Europe, and I tell you that you will find nothing here that is one half so bad as your slavery is."

These were the opinions of Baron Humboldt, a Christian philosopher of world-wide renown, whose views of men and of nations went further to establish their character, than any man now living. As Humboldt thought, the Christian world would think. Mr. Webster, as one of Fillmore's Cabinet, approved the Fugitive Act, and lent his personal and official influence to sustain it. By doing that, he let down his own moral nature. He not only disgraced himself, but the nation who placed him in that conspicuous position. We would not speak unkindly of any man; but who that reads and reflects can be ignorant of the fact, that all who sustain or sanction that infamous enactment must tarnish their own characters, and degrade themselves in their own opinion, and in the opinion of all good men?

LETTER FROM O. LAFAYETTE.

PARIS, April 26, 1851.

To M. Victor Schœlcher, Representative of the People.

MY DEAR COLLEAGUE, — You have been so obliging as to ask for my views and impressions respecting one of the most important events of our epoch, — the Abolition of Slavery in the French Colonies. I know well that you have an almost paternal interest in this question. You have contributed more than any one to the emancipation of the blacks, in our possessions beyond the seas, and you have enjoyed the double pleasure of seeing the problem completely resolved, and resolved by the Government of the Republic. At the present time, wearied by controversy, the mind loves to repose upon certain and solid progress, which future events can neither alter nor destroy, and which are justly considered as the true conquests of civilization and humanity. In examining the Emancipation of the Slaves in the French Antilles, from the point of view of the material interests of France, it may be variously appreciated; but the immense moral benefit of the act of Emancipation cannot be contested.

In one day, and as by the stroke of a wand, one hundred and fifty thousand of human beings were snatched from the degradation in which they had been held by former legislation, and resumed their rank in the great human family. And we should not omit to state, that this great event was accomplished without our witnessing any of those disorders and struggles which had been threatened, in order to perplex the consciences of the Friends of Abolition.

Will the momentary obstruction of material interests be opposed to these great results? When has it ever been possible in this world to do much good, without seeming at the same time to do a little harm?

I have sometimes heard it said that the conditions of labor in the Colonies would have been less disturbed, if the preparation and the accomplishment of the Emancipation had been left to the colonists themselves; but you know better than I, my dear Colleague, that these assertions are hardly sincere.

We cannot but recollect with what unanimity and what vehemence the colonial councils opposed, in 1844 and 1845, the Ameliorations that we sought to introduce into the condition of the Slaves.

Is it not evident that this disposition would have rendered impossible the time of a system of transition, which indeed was attempted without success in the English colonies? For myself, I am quite convinced that it would have been impossible to effect the emancipation otherwise than as it was effected, that is to say, in one day, and by a single decree. I would add also, that in my opinion the Abolition of Slavery in our colonies would have remained a long time unaccomplished, if France had not been in Revolution: and if it be easy to understand why all men of the white race do not consent to the Revolution of 1848, I cannot conceive that a single man of color can be found, who does not regard it with benedictions.

Furthermore, my dear Colleague, this great question of the Abolition of Negro Slavery, which has my entire sympathy, appears to me to have established its importance throughout the world. At the present time, the States of the Peninsula, if I do not deceive myself, are the only European powers who still continue to possess Slaves; and America, while continuing to uphold Slavery, feels daily more and more how heavily this plague weighs upon her destinies.

In expressing to you, my dear Colleague, how much I rejoice in these results, I do not gratify my personal feelings alone. I obey also my family traditions.

You know the interest which my grandfather, General LaFayette, took in the emancipation of the negroes. You know what he had begun to do at the Habitation de la Gabrielle, and what he intended to do there. It was not among the least regrets of his life, that he was stopped in that enterprise.

Pardon, my dear Colleague, the details into which I have been led. I know well that I can hardly be indiscreet in speaking on this subject to you. I rely upon those sentiments of friendship which you have always testified for me, and which differences of opinion respecting other political questions cannot weaken.

With fresh assurances of my friendship and consideration,

Your obedient servant and devoted Colleague,

O. LAFAYETTE,

Representative of the People, (Seine et Maine.)

TESTIMONY OF GEN. LAFAYETTE. 'When I am indulging in my views of American liberty, it is mortifying to be reminded that a large portion of the people in that very country are SLAVES. It is a dark spot on the face of the nation.' 'I never would have drawn my sword in the cause of America, if I could have conceived that thereby I was helping to found A NATION OF SLAVES.'

LETTER FROM EDWARD BAINES.

To what source shall we trace the heroic deeds and immortal productions of the ancient Greeks, but to the fount of Liberty? In what mould were those men cast who made Rome the mistress of Italy, and the world but the mould of Liberty? Among whom did art, letters, and commerce revive, after the sleep of the dark ages, but among the citizens of free republics? Where was the Reformation cradled but among the sons of Liberty? What passages of the history of England are held in the fondest remembrance, if not Magna Charta, the Bill of Rights, and the charters and statutes which secure civil and religious freedom? In the history of the United States, what event yet awakens the proud enthusiasm of a whole people, in comparison with the Declaration of Independence? Among the colonies of England, what Act arouses a joy the deepest and most universal but that of Slave Emancipation? Does not every oppressed nation groan in its bondage? Does not every free nation exult in its freedom? Would not every slave leap to break his chains?

If in any nation, slavery is the most monstrous of inconsistencies, it is in a free republic; and if in any community it is the most flagrant of sins, it is in a Christian community.

Nothing is more notorious than the tendency of self-interest to blind the judgment; and it is, therefore, the part of wisdom for those who are interested, to ask in any question of difficulty the judgment of those who are disinterested. If American Christians will accept the opinion of English Christians, they will learn that it is unanimously and unhesitatingly adverse to slavery. Without distinction of party or sect, Englishmen condemn the system of slaveholding; but if any are more earnest than others in expressing this condemnation, it is those who rejoice in the establishment of American Independence, and who have most sympathy with free institutions. It is not assumed that all masters are cruel, or all slaves miserable. But it is known that masters may be cruel with impunity, and that slaves are, to the last hour of life, devoid of security for person, property, home, wife, or children. To reflect on these things shocks the understanding and heart of all English Christians. They feel deeply for their Christian brethren and sisters in bondage, and it is difficult for them to believe that other Christian brethren can be the means of so great an injustice. A Christian inflicting the lash, as it is inflicted in the Slave States of America, or selling his fellow man for money, seems to them an incomprehensible thing. Be it remembered, there is no national or political prejudice in this. English Christians felt the same when the slave owners were their own countrymen, and so strongly did they feel it as to buy the freedom of the slaves at a great price. May they not, then, appeal to the Christians of the United States, to declare uncompromising hostility against the slave system? Let slavery be abolished, and the United States would rise higher in the estimation of the Old World, than if all the New World were embraced in their Union, and all were one golden California.

EDWARD BAINES.

LEEDS MERCURY OFFICE, Nov. 9th, 1856.

TESTIMONY OF DANIEL O'CONNELL.

I will now turn to a subject of congratulation: I mean the Anti-Slavery Societies of America — those noble-hearted men and women, who, through difficulties and dangers, have proved how hearty they are in the cause of abolition. I hail them all as my friends, and wish them to regard me as a brother. I wish for no higher station in the world; but I do covet the honor of being a brother with these American abolitionists. In this country, the abolitionists are in perfect safety; here we have fame and honor; we are lauded and encouraged by the good; we are smiled upon and cheered by the fair; we are bound together by godlike truth and charity; and though we have our differences as to points of faith, we have no differences as to this point, and we proceed in our useful career esteemed and honored. But it is not so with our anti-slavery friends in America: there they are vilified, there they are insulted. Why, did not very lately a body of men — of gentlemen, so called — of persons who would be angry if you denied them that cognomen, and would even be ready to call you out to share a rifle and a ball — did not such "gentlemen" break in upon an Anti-Slavery Society in America; aye, upon a ladies' Anti-Slavery Society, and assault them in a most cowardly manner? And did they not denounce the members of that Society? And where did this happen? Why, in Boston — in enlightened Boston, the capital of a non-slaveholding State. In this country, the abolitionists have nothing to complain of; but in America, they are met with the bowie-knife and lynch law! Yes! in America, you have had martyrs; your cause has been stained with blood; the voice of your brethren's blood crieth from the ground, and riseth high, not, I trust, for vengeance, but for mercy upon those who have thus treated them. But you ought not to be discouraged, nor relax in your efforts. Here you have honor. A human being cannot be placed in a more glorious position than to take up such a cause under such circumstances. I am delighted to be one of a Convention in which are so many of such great and good men. I trust that their reception will be such as that their zeal may be greatly strengthened to continue their noble struggle. I have reason to hope that, in this assembly, a voice will be raised which will roll back in thunder to America, which will mingle with her mighty waves, and which will cause one universal shout of liberty to be heard throughout the world. O, there is not a delegate from the Anti-Slavery Societies of America, but ought to have his name, aye, her name, written in characters of immortality. The Anti-Slavery Societies in America are deeply persecuted, and are deserving of every encouragement which we can possibly give them. I would that I had the eloquence to depict their character aright; but my tongue falters, and my powers fail, while I attempt to describe them. They are the true friends of humanity, and would that I had a tongue to describe aright the mighty majesty of their undertaking!—[Extract from a speech of Daniel O'Connell, at the World's Anti-Slavery Convention in London, 1840.]

Shelf. No.

ime. Whittier, J.
....373.20; v. 1 of 1328.29
, E. British thea-
Vol. 2-19, 21-25.
..... 354.1

ents.—Vol. II—V. W. peare: (2) King Henry t 1, 2; The merchant ice; King Henry v;
do about nothing; (3)
like it; Merry wives lsor; King Henry VIII;
e for measure; Win-le; (4) King Lear;
ine; Macbeth; Julius Antony and Cleopa-) Coriolanus; Othello;
st; Twelfth night.
ason: Every man in his
:. VI. F. Beaumont, Fletcher: Rule a ıd have a wife; The . P. Massinger: New
pay old debts. N.
The rival queens. J.
: All for love. VII.
thern: Isabella, or the ırriage; Oroonoko. J.
: Distressed mother,
ed by A. Philips.
: Zara, translated by
H. Brooke: Gustavus
VIII. G. Farquhar: ıstant couple; The int; Recruiting officer;
strategem. J. Addito. IX. Sir J. Van-
The provoked wife;
ovoked husband. C.
Love makes a man;
d'd and she wou'd not;
eless husband. X. N.
Tamerlane; The fair
; Jane Shore; Lady
ey. J. Hughes: Siege
ascus. XI. S. Cent-
The busy body; The ; Bold stroke for a
. Lillo: George Barn-fatal curiosity. XII.
ay: The orphan; Venerved. Sir R. Steele:
nscious lovers. E.
The revenge. J. Gay:
gars' opera. XIII. W. e: Love for love; The ıgbride. F. (M. A.) de
: Mahomet, the im-translated by J. Mil-Thomson: Tancred
smunda. B. Hoadly: ıicious husband. XIV.
lin: The man of the E. Moore: The found-he gamester. W. ad: The Roman fa-W. Shirley: Edward k prince. XV. J.
Barbarossa. A.
: The way to keep ll in the wrong; The daughter; Know n mind. XVI. W.
ey) altered by D. Gar-he country girl. G.
the elder: The jealous
. Colman, the elder,

Shelf. No.

INCHBALD, E., continued.
ers; The iron chest; The heir at law; John Bull; The poor gentleman. XXII. J. O'Keeffe: The castle of Andalusia; Fontainbleau; Wild oats. J. Burgoyne: The heiress. H. Jones: The earl of Essex. XXIII. E. Inchbald: Such things are; Every one has his fault; Wives as they were, and maids as they are; Lovers' vows, altered from Kotzebue; To marry, or not to marry. XXIV. T. Holcroft: The road to ruin; The deserted daughter. A. F. F. von Kotzebue: The stranger. J. Baillie: De Monfort. L. S. Mercier: The point of honour, translated from "Le Deserteur" by C. Kemble. XXV. T. Morton: The way to get married; A cure for the heart-ache; Speed the plough; The school of reform. J. Tobin: The honey moon.

— — Same. 4 v. Containing selections from the above 357.15

Contents.—Vol. I. Speed the plough; Cure for the heart-ache; School of reform; Wild oats. II. Deserted daughter; Road to ruin; Such things are; To marry, or not to marry. III. First love; The Jew; Wheel of fortune; The way to keep him; The Grecian daughter. IV. The mountaineers; John Bull; The poor gentleman; The dramatist.

— Collection of farces. Vol. 1, 3-7. 6 v..... 354.2

Contents.—Vol. I. S. (F. D. de St. A.) de Genlis: The child of nature, translated from "Zélie." E. Inchbald: The wedding day. A. J. B. Dumaniant: The midnight hour, translated from the "Guerre ouverte." J. Kenney: Raising the wind; Matrimony, altered from the French; Ella Rosenberg. W. B. Ibbetson: The blind boy. H. Cowley: Who's the dupe. C. Macklin: Love à-la-mode. III. W. Pearce: Hartford bridge; Netley abbey. T. Knight: The turnpike gate. P. Hoare: Lock and key. J. Reed: The register office. A. Murphy: The apprentice. R. B. Sheridan: The critic. I. Bickerstaff: The sultan. F. (M.) Brooke: Rosina. IV. I. Jackman: All the world's a stage. D. Garrick: The lying valet. A. Murphy: The citizen; Three weeks after marriage. W. Shakespeare: Catherine and Petruchio, altered by D. Garrick. I. Bickerstaff: The

Sh

INCHBALD, E., continued.
The doctor and the apothecary; The first floor. S. Birch: The adopted child. J. P. Kemble: The farm house, taken from Johnson's Country lasses. VII. J. P. Kemble: Lodoiska. G. Colman, the younger: Ways and means. J. Tobin: The school for authors. K. O'Hara: Midas. C. Dibdin: The waterman. S. Foote: The author. A. Murphy: The old maid. R. Dodsley: The miller of Mansfield. G. Colman, the elder: Comus, altered from Milton.

— Animal magnetism.....12
— The wedding day.....
INCIDENTS in my life. Heach, D. D. 1
INCONSTANT, The. Farqu17; 13
G. .....v and
v. 8 of 354.1; 1369....13
INDIA. Acland, C. Mann the and customs of.....to-— Corner, Miss. India pir torial, descriptive, hil historical..... 3 — General description c. 1 of — Gleig, G. R. British res pire in 4
— Murray, H. Account British..... v.
INDIAN biography. That St. er, B. B. .....n
INDIAN cottage. Saint Pierre (J. H.) B. de.....
INDIAN penal code, Report and notes on the. Macaulay, T. B., lord..... 1
INDIAN traits. Thatcher, B. B. 1 INDIANS of America. Goodrich, S. G. History of the.....v. 11 of — — Lives of celebrated. v. 5 of 1 — — Manners and customs of the.....v. 12 of INDUSTRY of the Rhine. Banfield, T. C. .....
INFIDELITY, Converts from. Crichton, A. 8 INFLEXIBLE captive. More, H. .....v. 5 of INGELOW, J. Poems..... 3
— A story of doom and other poems..... 1
INGLEFIELD, E. A. Words of advice to young naval officers.....
INGLIS, H. D. (Derwent Conway.) Journey

Shelf. No.

EEPER of Abbeville.
'itzball, E. ..1369.3; 1388.7, 32
ITY. Barlow, J. Man's ower over himself to revent or control.
v. 1 of 850.25
ham, T. C. Imperfect id disordered mental ction..... 820.7
T architecture. Renie, J. ..839.13; 849.13; 850.6
T miscellanies. Lond. 839.14
me. Bost..... 849.14
CT transformations.
ond..... 839.15
Bost..... 849.15
tennie, J. Natural of.....389.18; 810.9
on, W. History natural arrange-of..... 408.3
ION, The great. Ba-
., lord.826.7; v. 3 of 901.2
Brougham, H.,
Dialogues on....840.7, 8
T. L. Indications
.....409.2; 1655.24
of animals. Kir-. Power, wisdom oodness of God as fested in the..... 826.2
on, W. Instincts imals..... 408.4
IONS of the Greeks Romans. Fos-
oke, T. D..... 378.3
RUMENTS, Mathemati-
al. Heather, J. F..... 819.23
LLECTUAL science. bercrombie, J. The inllectual powers 810.46
low, J. Connection
etween physiology and.
v. 1 of 850.25
See also Insanity, Instinct, Metaphysics, Mind, Philos-, Reason, Science.
NATIONAL monthly Magazine of literature, cience and art. Vol.
-5. 5 v..... 870.2
IATIONS of immortality.
Wordsworth, W.....311.1
v. 5 of 359.12; v. 5 of 1319.7
1409.6
IGUING chambermaid.
Fielding, H.....v. 5 of 331.1
ODUCTION to practical rganic chemistry.v. 1 of 850.25 ODUCTION to vegetable hysiology.....v. 3 of 850.25

Shelf. No.

IRBY, C. L., and Mangles, J. Travels in Egypt and Nubia, Syria, and the Holy Land 889.25
IRELAND. Adams, J. Q. Conquest of..... 314.10
— Croker, T. C. Popular songs of..... 385.6
— Donahoe, P. Songs of our land.....1349.12
— Fitzpatrick, W. J. Jottings about..... 1829.1
— Giraldus Cambrensis. Conquest of.....833.7
— — Topography of..... 833.7
— Hayes, E. Ballads of. 316.5; 355.5
— Lover, S. Lyrics of.... 374.2
— Mills, A. Literature and literary men of..... 402.2
— Moore, T. History of.. 368.5
— Street ballads, popular poetry, and household songs of..... 1349.9
— Taylor, W. C. Civil wars of.....810.52; 830.68
IRELAND and America.....1376.10
IRELAND as it is. Amherst, J. A. 1368.6; 1388.8
IRENE. Johnson, S. ..v. 2 of 331.1
v. 1 of 901.6
IRETON, H., Biography of.. 399.7
IRISH ambassador. Kenney, J. 1376.5; 1378.2
IRISH assurance and Yankee modesty.1376.8; 1378.6; 1388.35 IRISH attorney. Bernard, W. B. 1376.1; 1378.6
IRISH broom-maker. Wood, C. A. F. 1376.10; 1378.6
IRISH eloquence. Phillips, C. 862.4
IRISH independence. Train, G. F. 1830.2
IRISH lion. Buckstone, J. B.....1376.4; 1388.26 IRISH melodies. Moore, T. v. 3 of 312.1; v. 2 of 394.8
v. 4 of 1317.13; 1329.26; 1349.12
IRISH odes. De Vere, A... 1343.2
IRISH post. Planché, J. R. .1376.11
1382.3; 1388.35, 37
IRISH tales 815.2
IRISH tiger. Morton, J. M..1376.11
1382.3; 1388.20, 37
IRISH tutor. Butler, R.1376.2; 1378.6
IRISH widow. Garrick, D. v. 5 of 331.1
v. 5 of 354.2; 1377.2; 1388.23
IRISH Yankee. Brougham, J. 1376.11; 1382.3; 1388.37

IRVING, W., continued.
— — 6. Bracebridge hall.
— — 7. Tales of a travelle — — 8. Astoria.....
— — 9. Crayon miscellan
— — 10. Bonneville's adve
tures.....
— — 11. Oliver Goldsmith
— — 12, 13. Mahomet a his successors.....
— — 14. Conquest of Gr
nada .....
— — 15. Alhambra.....
— — Same. Lond. 10 v.

Contents. — Vol. I. Salm gundi; History of New Yo II. Sketch book; Oliver Go smith. III. Bracebridge ha Abbotsford, and Newste abbey. IV. Alhambra; Ta of a traveller. V. Conquest Granada and Spain. V Columbus. VII. Columb and his companions. VI Astoria; Tour on the prairi
IX. Mahomet and his succ sors. X. Adventures of Ca Bonneville; Conquest of Fl ida, by T. Irving.

— — Same. Paris. 1 v. in

Contents. — Part I. Memo
Salmagundi; History of N York; Sketch book; Bra bridge hall; Tales of a trav ler. II. Life and voyages Columbus: Voyages and d coveries of the companions Columbus; Chronicle of t conquest of Granada; T Alhambra.

— Bracebridge hall.....
— History of New York.
— Life and voyages of C lumbus.....
— Oliver Goldsmith.....
— Sketch book. N. Y. ..
— — Same. Lond. 2 v..
— Spanish papers and oth miscellanies .....
— Tales of a traveller. N.
1857.....
— — Same. N. Y. 1863..
— — Same. Lond. .....
— Voyages and discoveri of the companions Columbus .....
Is he jealous? Beasele
S.....
ISAAC Comnenus. Tayl
H. .....
ISABEL, pseud. See Ritch
A. C. (M.)
ISABELLA. Southern, T. v.
v. 7 of 354.1; v. 13

Shelf. No.

child. Browning,
.....v. 1 of 335.10
l of 335.11; v. 1 of 1326.3
the Alps. Muston,
..... 879.13
omedies. Goldoni,
..... 345.3
painters, Early. on, A. (M.) 840.23
oets, Early. Ros-
D. G. 855.10
oets, Stories from Hunt, (J. H.) Leigh. 335.14
publics. Sismondi, L. S. de..... 378.4
Addison, J. Re-on parts of,
.....v. 1 of 847.7
e, J. C. Classical rough..... 379.19
, J. W. von. Trav-
.....v. 2 of 838.3
h, G. Opera in.. 905.19
n, A. Progress of ng in 840.23
S. Social and po-state of...409.14; 1655.3
L. History of ng in 828.4
rlane, C. Popular ns, sports, and reions of the south of. 840.36
, I. Visit to..... 879.5
, S. Italy...v. 2 of 312.1
i, L. History of. 810.74
, M. W. Literary
cientific men of... 398.1
, J. D. An au-in..... 830.53
g, W. Italy and alian islands..... 820.51
L. Sentimental
y through..... 908.10 worth, W. Memo-f a tour in, 1837.. 311.1
of 359.12; v. 3 of 1319.7
1409.6
Scott, Sir W.
v. 3 of 902.1
. Dramatized. See n, T.....1369.18; 1379.21 caulay, T. B., lord. 324.13
s. Atkinson, M.
.....1346.15
ubbard, H. 1327.10

nel, Life of. De
).....v. 1 of 833.9
pard. Buckstone,
..... 1376.7
[. All the world's

Shelf. No.

JAMES I. Chambers, R. Life of..... 830.59
— Disraeli, I. Character of.....v. 3 of 897.5
JAMES II. Fox, C. J. Reign of. 837.10
— Lowther, J. Reign of... 837.10
JAMES IV. Greene, R...v. 2 of 355.3
JAMES, G. P. R. History of Charlemagne 810.60 — History of chivalry..... 810.20
— Life and times of Louis XIV. 2 v..... 858.3
— Life of Richard Cœur-de-Lion. 2 v..... 827.7
— Lives of foreign statesmen. See Crowe, E. E. v. 2-5 of 388.7
JAMES, H. Lectures and miscellanies 885.7
JAMES, M. Wales, and other poems..... 358.1
JAMESON, A. (M.) Celebrated female sovereigns. 2 v. 810.44 — Commonplace book of thoughts, [etc.]. Lond. 876.13
— – Same. N. Y..... 877.9
— Loves of the poets..... 359.11
— Memoirs and essays..... 876.14
— Memoirs of the early Italian painters, and of the progress of painting in Italy. 2 v..... 840.23
— Sketches in Canada, and rambles among the red men..... 409.12 JAMESON, R. Discovery and adventure in Africa. See Murray, H. 810.18 — Discovery and adventure in the Polar seas. See Murray, H. 810.15
— History of British India. See Murray, H. 810.51
JANE Eyre. Dramatized. Brougham, J. ..1368.8; 1388.39
JANE Shore. Rowe, N. .v. 1 of 331.1 v. 10 of 354.1; v. 2 of 356.21 1368.3; 1388.5; v. 12 of 1389.1
JANVIER, F. D. H. Patriotic poems.....1347.33
JAPANESE, Manners and customs of the..... 820.36
JARDINE, D. Criminal trials; Narrative of the gunpowder plot. Lond. Vol. 2..... 839.4
— – Same. Bost. Vol. 1. 849.11
JARDINE, W. The naturalist's library. 40 v..... 179.1

Contents. — See Class list for

Shelf. No.

JEALOUSY at fault. Giraud, G.
JEANS, H. W. Navigation and nautical astronomy. 8 JEFFREY, F., lord. Contributions to the Edinburgh review. 4 v. in 1.....
— Jonathan Swift..409.3; 16
— Samuel Richardson.....
JEFFREY, R. V., formerly Mrs. Johnson. Poems.13
JELLALABAD. Seizure and defence of. Gleig, G. R. . 8
JENKS, J. W. Rural poetry of the English language.
JENNIE Juneiana. Croly, J. C.....
JENNY Lind at last. Reach, A. B.....1
1378.4; 1379.17; 13
JERAULD, C. A. Poetry and prose 13
JEREMIE, J. A. Plotinus—the eclectics, or later Platonists; Sextus Empiricus—the sceptical philosophy 3 JEROMINO.....v. 1 of JERRMANN, E. Pictures from St. Petersburg.... 4 1
JERROLD, D. Writings. 8 v.

Contents. — Vol. I. St. Giles and St. James. II. Men of character. III. Mrs. Caudle's curtain lectures; Story of a feather; Sick giant and Doctor dwarf. IV. Cakes and ale. V. Punch's letters to his son; Punch's complete letter writer; Sketches of the English. VI. A man made of money; Chronicles of Clovernook. VII. Bubbles of the day; Time works wonders; The catspaw; The prisoner of war; Retired from business; St. Cupid, or Dorothy's fortune. VIII. The rent day; Nell Gwynne, or the prologue; The housekeeper; The wedding gown; The schoolfellows; Doves in a cage; The painter of Ghent; Black-ey'd Susan.

— Ambrose Gwinett..... 1
— Black-eyed Susan.....1 1378.8; 1
— The catspaw.....1368.2; 1
— Fifteen years of a drunkard's life.....1
— Mrs. Caudle's curtain lectures.....1
— The rent-day.....
— St. Cupid.....
— Specimens of [his] wit..

Shelf. No.

ITS. Nicolini, G. B. History of the..... 835.3
aint-Priest, A. G., comte de. Fall of the..... 889.3
The. Cumberland, R. v. 18 of 354.1; v. 3 of 357.15 of Malta. Marlowe, C.....v. 1 of 331.2
ss, The..... 889.31 ss, The. Moncrieff, W. T..... 1368.7
SH literature. Steinschneider, M..... 402.9
, History of the. Milman, H. H.....389.15; 810.1 of Arc. Southey, R. 311.3, 13 v. 1 of 1318.7
CAUDLE'S dinner-table harangues..... 822.2
IAD, The. Kortum, C. A. 373.16
Miller's jests. Mottley, J..... 823.3
, King. Shakespeare, W.....v. 3 of 313.1; 322.3 v. 3 of 322.4; v. 4 of 325.1 v. 5 of 326.1; v. 4 of 326.2 v. 3 of 337.2; v. 2 of 359.18 v. 2 of 394.7; v. 4 of 1326.1 v. 6 of 1394.1
Bull. Colman, G., the younger.....v. 21 of 354.1 v. 4 of 357.15; 1379.2
Endicott. Longfellow, H. W. 1348.13 of Procida. Knowles, J. S. .....v. 2 of 1357.1
Ploughman's talk.
Spurgeon, C. H. 1908.16
Woodvil. Lamb, C. v. 1 of 874.2; v. 4 of 874.6
S, R., and Nicolas, P. H. Naval and military heroes of Great Britain. 854.5
SON, C. Country lasses. v. 5 of 1389.1
he farm house....v. 6 of 354.2
he gamesters. See Shirley, W. .....v. 3 of 1389.1
SON, R. V. See Jeffrey, R. V.
SON, S. Works. 2 v. 901.6

Contents.—Vol. I. Life and enius, by A. Murphy; The ambler; The adventurer; The idler; Rasselas; Theodore; The fountains; Letters; rene, a tragedy; Miscellaeous poems. II. Lives of he poets; Lives of eminent ersons; Political tracts; Philological tracts, etc.; Miscelaneous tracts, etc.; Dedicaons; Opinions on questions

Shelf. No.

JOHNSON, S., continued.
— Piozzi, H. L. Anecdotes of.....1655.16
JOHNSON, S. D. The fireman.1369.11 1378.16; 1379.6; 1384.2
— In and out of place.....1376.14 1388.15
— Our gal 1376.10
— The shaker lovers.....1377.13 1378.5; 1379.18; 1388.43
JOHNSTONE, J. B. Ben Bolt. 1378.5, 11
— Gale Breezely.....1376.12
— The sailor of France....1368.11 1381.3
JOINVILLE, J. de. Crusade of St. Louis..... 846.6
JONATHAN in England. Colman, G., the younger...1369.18 1381.1
JONATHAN Bradford. Fitzball, E. 1368.10
JONES, A. T. Poems..... 1346.9
JONES, E. C. The harp of Sylva 338.22
JONES, H. Earl of Essex.v. 2 of 331.1 v. 22 of 354.1; v. 12 of 1389.1
JONES, J. S. Captain Kyd.1369.12 1380.3; 1388.31, 41
— The carpenter of Rouen..1368.7 1379.5; 1388.36
— The Green mountain boy.1377.16 1378.20; 1388.33
— Moll Pitcher.....1369.7; 1382.1 1388.41
— The people's lawyer..... 1369.9 1378.20; 1379.5, 12; 1388.18
— The surgeon of Paris....1369.10 1388.41
JONES, W. Household hints; or, how to make home happy 877.10
JONES, W. A. Characters and criticisms. 2 v.... 888.11
JONSON, B. Works..... 322.2

Contents.—Life, by B. W. Procter; Ancient commendatory verses on B. J.; Every man in his humour; Every man out of his humour; Cynthia's revels; Poetaster, or his arraignment; Sejanus, his fall; Volpone, or the fox; Epicœne, or the silent woman; The alchemist; Catiline, his conspiracy; Bartholomew fair; The devil is an ass; The staple of news; The new inn; The magnetic lady; A tale of a tub; The sad shepherd; Fall of Mortimer; The case is altered; Entertainments; Masques; Epigrams; The forest; Underwoods; Leges convivales; Translations, from JONSON, B., continued.

— Coleridge, S. T. No on.....v.
— Chapman, G., and Ma ton, J. Eastward h v.
— Fletcher, J., and Midd ton, T. The widow.v
JOSEPHINE, Memoirs Memes, J. S. ...810.
JOURNALISM, British. drews, A. .....
JOURNEY to London. V brugh, Sir J.....v.
JOVIAL crew. Brome, R. v
JOWETT, B. Interpretati of Scripture.....
JOYCE, J. Introduction the arts and sciences.
— Scientific dialogu Lond. 1852.....
— – Same. Lond. 1855..
JUDD, S. Philo.....
JUDGMENT, The. Hillhou J. A.....v.
JUDSON, E. C. (Fanny For ter.) Alderbrook: a c lection of village sket es, poems, etc.....
JULIA. Brooke, W. .....
JULIUS Cæsar. Shakespea W. .....v. 6 of 31 v. 6 of 322.4; v. v. 8 of 326.1; v. v. 7 of 337.2; v. v. 4 of 359.18; v. v. 10 of 1326 1388.4; v. 1
— Philological comments on. See Craik, G. 356 JUMBO-JUM! 1377.12; 1379.
JUNIUS, pseud. Lette Phil. 2 v. .....
— – Same. Including l ters under other sign tures, correspondenc with Wilkes, and priva letters to Woodfa Lond. 2 v.....
— Allen, W. Junius u masked; or Lord Geor Sackville proved to Junius .....
— Griffin, F. Junius disco ered .....
JUPITER Ammon, Adve tures in the oäsis St. John, B. .....
JUSSIEU, A. (H. L.) d

Shelf. No.

, D. J., continued.
satire, translated Chapman. See rūs 385.5
itions from. See n, J. .....v. 5 of 319.8
v. 5 of 1316.12
poems. Park, R. 349.11 rambler. Vol. 1, 2.
..... 1880.1
speaker. Beadle,
.....1397.22

The love poems
iations 1327.29
OPE, The..... 1835.1
rd. See Home, H.
KA, Pedestrian
y to. Cochrane,
..... 830.46
Critique of pure
..... 855.5
and Lardner, D. nics..... 398.8
; and Petruchio. speare, W. 1368.4
Holland, J. G... 1348.5
heal. Pilgrim, J.1377.18
. Longfellow, H.
..... 854.16
Sardanapalus, d from Lord By-..... 1368.4
eare's Henry VIII.1355.11
Poetical works.
1854..... 347.6

s.—Life; Endymion; Isabella, or the pot of story from Boccaccio; of St. Agnes; Hyperiscellaneous poems; Sonnets; Posthumems.

Bost. 1869..... 1317.9

s.—Same as preceding.

N. Y. 2 parts
..... 334.24

s.—Endymion; Labella, from Boccaccio; of St. Agnes; Hyperiscellaneous poems; Epistles; Stanzas.

Phil. See How-
..... 332.6

—Same as preceding.

e of St. Agnes;
on; Lamia..v. 3 of 312.1
. Cyclopædia of and scientific te 394.1

Shelf. No.

KELLY, W. K. History of Russia. 2 v. 827.6
— History of the house of Austria, in continuation of Coxe. Added, Genesis, by [Count Hartig]. 828.3
— Proverbs of all nations.. 396.9
KEMBLE, C. The point of honour, altered by L. S. Mercier.....v. 24 of 354.1
KEMBLE, Mrs. C. Personation.....1376.15; 1379.16
KEMBLE, F. A. Plays..... 372.1

Contents. — An English tragedy; Mary Stuart, translated from Schiller; Mademoiselle de Belle Isle, translated from A. (D.) Dumas.

— Poems 375.9
KEMBLE, J. P. The farm house, altered from C. Johnson's Country lasses.....v. 6 of 354.2
— Lodoiska.....v. 7 of 354.2
— The tempest, adapted to the stage. See Shakespeare, W.....v. 5 of 354.1
KEMP, T. L. Indications of instinct.....409.2; 1655.24 — Natural history of creation.....409.31; 1655.24
KENILWORTH. Scott, Sir W. v. 4 of 902.1
KENNEDY, S. M. Trying moments..... 1375.3
KENNEY, F. The illustrious stranger.....1376.16; 1378.6
KENNEY, J. Ella Rosenberg. Lond. .....v. 1 of 354.2
— - Same. N. Y.....1369.15 1379.3; 1388.38
— Fighting by proxy.....1377.10 1379.17; 1384.1
— The Irish ambassador. 1375.6; 1378.2
— Matrimony. Lond..v. 1 of 354.2
— - Same. N. Y...1376.14; 1388.15
— Raising the wind. Lond. v. 1 of 354.2
— - Same. N. Y..... 1376.4 1378.6; 1388.26
— Spring and autumn. 1378.14; 1388.44
— Sweethearts and wives.. 1368.1 1378.7; 1388.2
KENRICK, W. Falstaff's wedding.....v. 4 of 331.1
KENYON, J. A day at Tivoli: with other verses. 346.2
— Poems 345.1
KEPLER, J. Brewster, Sir

Shelf. No.

KILLEGREW, T. The parson's wedding....v. 3 of KILLMANSEGG, Miss, and her precious leg. Hood, T. v. 2 of 318.1; v. 2 of 1
KING, E. My Paris: French character sketches.....18
KING, T. S. Patriotism, and other papers..... 8
KING, W. Political and literary anecdotes of his own time..... 8
KING and deserter. Maddox, J. M.....1369.17; 13
KING and no king. Beaumont, F. .....v. 1 of v. 2 of KING of the commons. White, J. 137.4; 136
KING Arthur. Bulwer-Lytton, E. (G. E. L.) 346.11; 14
KING Charles I. Havard, W. v. 2 of 331.1; v. 17 of 1
KING Charming. Planché, J. R. 1376.9; 1
KING John, Papal tyranny in the reign of. Cibber, C.....v. 4 of 3
KING John. Shakespeare, W. .....v. 3 of 313.1; v. 3 of 322.4; v. 4 of v. 5 of 326.1; v. 4 of v. 3 of 337.2; v. 2 of 3 v. 2 of 394.7; v. 4 of 1 1367.5; 1388.1; v. 6 of 1
KING Lear. Shakespeare, W. .....v. 7 of 313.1; v. 5 of 322.4; v. 9 of v. 9 of 326.1; v. 7 of v. 6 of 337.2; v. 4 of v. 4 of 359.18; v. 6 of v. 8 of 1326.1; v. 11 of 1
KING René's daughter. Herz, H. 1377.15; 1379.19; 1
KING Sham, and other atrocities in verse. Greenleaf, L. N. 13 KING Victor and King Charles. Browning, R. v. 1 of KINGLAKE, A. W. Eōthen. 409.6; 1
KING's rival. Taylor, T. ... 1 KINGS and magistrates, Tenure of. Milton, J..v. 2 of KINGSLEY, C. Andromeda, and other poems..... 3 — Limits of exact science

Shelf. No.

ıy, R. S. Wonderful ınd eccentric museum. ı v. 894.1
ıy, W. Power, wisdom, ınd goodness of God, ıs manifested in the cre- tion of animals. 2 v.... 826.2
LAND, C. M. Garland of poetry for the young. 1326.14 atriotic eloquence..... 1396.1
he school-girl's garland. ı v..... 373.23 LAND, F. Cyclopædia of commercial and busi- ness anecdotes. 2 v... 901.8
Same. 2 v. in 1..... 901.9
MAN, T. P. First mne- monical lessons in ge- ometry, algebra, and rigonometry 829.35
A, in the dark. Buck- stone, J. B..... 1376.6
, J. The lost senses. 1. Deafness. 2. Blindness. 840.24 hysical geography of he Holy Land..... 840.25
cripture lands..... 815.7
STEIN, L. F. Selections rom the Anglo-Saxon iterature. 2 v..... 404.4
TERHEIM. De Quincey, ı. .....v. 2 of 905.3
PP, A. J. Roots and ram- fications of divers vords..... 406.17
PP, S. L. Lectures on American literature.... 402.3
KERBOCKER, Diedrich, seud. See Irving, W.
HT, C. Capital and la- bour 840.26 he elephant viewed in elation to man..... 840.21 alf-hours with the best uthors. Lond. 4 v... 865.2
Same. N. Y. 4 v..... 865.3
assages of a working ife during half a cen- ury. 3 v..... 865.10
. Caxton: a biography. 840.28

---

eekly and monthly vol- umes. 139 v. Contain- ng:—
Banfield, T. C. Industry of the Rhine..... 840.1 Blaze de Bury, M. P. R. Molière, and the French classical drama..... 840.3
— Racine, and the French classical drama.. 840.4

Shelf. No.

KNIGHT, C., continued.
— — Craik, G. L. History of British commerce... 840.14
— — — History of literature and learning in England. 840.15 — — — Pursuit of knowledge under difficulties. Illustrated by anecdotes.... 840.16 — — — — Same. Illustrated by female examples.... 840.17
— — Davis, Sir J. F. The Chinese 840.18
— — Dennis, G. The Cid .. 840.19
— — Dodd, G. British manufactures 840.20
— — Grenville, G. N. T. Lands, classical and sacred..... 840.48
— — Gresham, Sir T. Life. 840.22
— — Jameson, A. (M.) Early Italian painters..... 840.23
— — Kitto, J. The lost senses..... 840.24
— — — Physical geography of the Holy Land..... 840.25
— — Knight C. Capital and labour..... 840.26
— — — The elephant viewed in relation to man..... 840.21
— — — W. Caxton: a biography 840.28
— — Lamb, C. Tales from Shakspere..... 840.29
— — Lane, E. W. Arabian tales and anecdotes.... 840.30
— — — Modern Egyptians... 840.31
— — Lankester, E. Vegetable substances used for the food of man 840.32
— — Lewes, G. H. Biographical history of philosophy 840.34 — — — Spanish drama. Lope de Vega and Calderon.. 840.35
— — Mac Farlane, C. Camp of refuge..... 840.40
— — — Dutch in the Medway. 840.37
— — — Legend of Reading abbey 840.33
— — — Popular customs, sports, etc., of the South of Italy..... 840.36
— — — Romance of travel. The East..... 840.38
— — Malkin, J. H. Historical parallels..... 840.41
— — Martin, W. C. L. History of the dog..840.43; 850.11
— — — History of the horse. 840.44
— — Martineau, H. The billow and the rock.....840.42

KNIGHT, C., continued.
— — Poole, S. The Engli woman in Egypt....
— — Pratt, A. Flowers their associations...
— — — The field, garden, woodland .....
— — Rennie, J. Bird arc tecture.....
— — — Bird miscellanies.
— — — Insect architectur
— — Saunders, J. Pictu of English life. Chauc — — Secret societies of middle ages.....
— — Sketch of the history monkeys .....
— — Sketches in natural h tory. Mammalia....
— — Sketches of popular mults.....
— — Smith, T. S. Philo phy of health.....
— — Spenser and his poet
— — Tasso, T. Godfrey Bulloigne; or, the rec ery of Jerusalem.....
— — Thorne, J. Rambles rivers .....
— — Vieusseux, A. Na leon Bonaparte .....
— — Wittich, W. Curiosit of physical geograph — — — Western coast of N way.....
— — Wornum, R. N. T epochs of painting...
KNIGHT, Mrs. S. G. (K Manton.) Man's wrong or, woman's foibles..
KNIGHT, T. The turnpi gate.....v.
KNIGHT of Arva. Boucicau D. (L.) .....1369.
KNIGHT of Malta. Bea mont, F. .....v.
KNIGHT of the burning pest Beaumont, F. .....v.
KNIGHTS, The. Aristop anes.....v. 1
KNIGHTS, The. Foote, v.
KNIGHTS templars .....
KNOW your own mind. Mu phy, A. .....v. 1 KNOWLEDGE. Bailey, Progress of.....
— Craik, G. L. Pursuit under difficulties..... 840.16, 17;
— Dick, T. Improvemen

Shelf. No.

J. S., continued.
Boroihme 1368.6
idal, altered from nont and Fletcher. 1367.6
nchback..... 1367.2
..... 1367.9
'e chase..... 1367.3 us..... 1367.4 fe..... 1367.1
ı Tell..... 1367.5
S. E. Orlean La-ınd other poems..1395.41
'. von. Sketches
:he mineral king-
See Schouw, J. F. 826.5
W. Revolutions
ope. 3 v..... 830.45
ARK. Boker, G. H.1357.17
T., Correspond-vith. See Schil-
C.) F. von 876.16
..... 374.22
!. A. The Jobsiad. 373.16
.. Select speeches. 866.4
' of..... 827.5
A. F. F. von.
s' vows, altered by hbald .....v. 23 of 354.1
, altered by R. B. an..... 828.10 847.2; 1357.2; 1367.3
anger.....v. 24 of 354.1 1367.2
IER, F. A. Para-..... 843.3
The Spanish trag-
.....v. 1 of 331.2

says on. Lieber,
..... 820.47
classes of Eng-Dod, —..... 1848.1
.. Ebenezer Ven-
..... 1377.3
Plato.....v. 4 of 814.3
, Thomas, pseud.
ll, G. C. olton, C. C. 885.8
Fra-diavolo.....1357.11
o friends 1368.3 1378.5; 1388.5
B. Literary re-..... 898.7
home; or, gentle-ve can do without Millengen, J. G. .1376.19
1388.15
vare!..... 1376.7 ttle.....1377.10; 1381.1
reath. Hale, S.

Shelf. No.

LADY of the lake. Scott, Sir W. .....v. 2 of 312.1
331.3; 336.1; v. 3 of 336.2
336.3; v. 1 of 336.13; 336.14
v. 4 of 359.13; v. 1 of 902.1
v. 3 of 1318.3; v. 1 of 1329.2
1344.2

— — Same. Dramatized. See Dibdin, T. 1369.13
1379.21; 1383.1

LADY of the lake. Thomson, M. 1377.3

LADY of the lions. Durivage, O. E. 1377.10
1378.4; 1379.17

LADY Chesterfield's letters to her daughter. Sala, G. A. 905.16

LADY Geraldine's courtship. Browning, E. B. .v. 2 of 335.10
v. 2 of 335.11

LADY Jane Gray. Rowe, N.
v. 1 of 331.1; v. 10 of 354.1
v. 2 of 356.21; v. 16 of 1389.1

LADY's last stake. Cibber, C. .....v. 2 of 357.13

LADY's reader. Vandenhoff, G. 393.8

LADY's trial. Forde, J..v. 2 of 353.9
v. 2 of 359.7

LADY's voyage round the world. Pfeiffer, I. 409.23
1655.13

LÆLIUS. Cicero, M. T..824.2; 830.12

LAFAYETTE, M. P. J. R. Y. G. de M. de, Life and services of. See Hillhouse, J. A. .....v. 2 of 356.20

LAFERRIÈRE, A. Two can play at that game. See Pierron, E. 1377.10
1378.18; 1384.1

LA FONTAINE, J. de. Fables. N. Y. 2 v..... 332.1

— — Same. Vol. 1. Bost. 1339.10

LA GIRONIÈRE, P. P. de. Twenty years in the Philippines 409.21; 1655.8

LA HARPE, J. F. de. The earl of Warwick, translated by T. Francklin.
v. 2 of 331.1
v. 19 of 354.1; v. 14 of 1389.1

LAIGHTON, A. Poems.... 385.13

LAING, S. France, Prussia, Switzerland, Italy, and other parts of Europe. 409.14; 1655.3

— Residence in Norway, 1834-36 .....409.15; 1655.3

LAIRD's Jock. Scott, Sir W.

Sh

LAMB, C., continued.
Final memorials. III. Essays of Elia. IV. Rosamund Gray; Essay; Letters under assumed signatures; Curious fragments; Mr. H——; Poems; Sonnets; John Woodvil; The witch; Miscellaneous; Translations from V. Bourne; The wife's trial.

— — Same. N. Y. 1838. 2 v.

Contents. — Vol. I. Life, by T. N. Talfourd; Letters; Poems; Sonnets; John Woodvil; The witch; Miscellaneous; The wife's trial. II. Essays of Elia; Rosamund Gray; Essays; Letters; Mr. H——.

— — Same. N. Y. 1856.... 1

Contents. — Essays of Elia; Rosamund Gray; Essays.

— Eliana. Lond. 18
— — Same. Bost. 8
— Essays of Elia and Eliana. Leip. 18
— Essays of Elia. N. Y. ..
— Sketches and letters....
— — Same. 2d ed. .....
— Specimens of English dramatic poets about the time of Shakspeare. Lond. .....
— — Same. N. Y. 2 v. in 1.
— Sonnets.....v. 3 of — and M. Tales from Shakspere. 2 v. 8

LAME lover, The. Foote, S. v. 5 of 331.1; 1

LAMENT of Tasso. Byron, G. (G. N.), lord...v. 4 of
v. 5 of 347.1; v. 4 of 3
v. 3 of 1

LAMIA. Keats, J. ....v. 3 of 332.6; 334.24; 347.6; 1

LAMPING, C., and France, A. de. The French in Algiers 8

LAMPS, pitchers and trumpets. Hood, E. P.....18

LANCASTER, C. S. Advice to husbands..1377.9; 1379.16,

LANCASTER, E. The manager's daughter 1

LANDER, R. and J. Expedition to the Niger. Lond. 2 v. 3

— — Same. N. Y. 2 v. ... 8

LANDOR, R. E. The fountain of Arethusa. 2 v.....

LANDOR, W. S. Dry sticks

Shelf. No.

FORD, J. A. Prison books and their authors. 883.14
HORNE, J. Theodosius and Constantia 833.13
UAGE. Balch, W. S. Lectures on 406.25
hambers, W. History of the English..... 404.15 arrar, F. W. Origin of..... 395.24 ichardson, C. Study of. 406.14 chlegel, (C. W.) F. von. Philosophy of 828.8
UAGES, Origin of. mith, A. 817.10
ESTER, E. Vegetable substances used for the ood of man. Lond. n. d. 849.8
Same. Lond. 1846. 2 v. 840.32
Same. Bost..... 859.3
Same. N. Y. 820.63
HAN, C. Adventures in he wilds of North America..... 409.16
HAN, J. H. History of Michigan 820.41
YE, F. (T.) de. Rameis the great; or, Egypt 300 years ago 938.20
I, L. History of painting in Italy. 3 v..... 828.4
he sublime in nature. 169.43
. Byron, G. (G. N.), ord..v. 3 of 323.2; v. 4 of 347.1
v. 2 of 358.29; v. 2 of 1409.2
OM, L. Poems 1348.16
NER, D. Cabinet cyclopædia. 132 v. Containing:—

History.

Keightley, T. Outlines of history..... 368.1
Nicolas, Sir N. H. Chronology of history 368.2
Mackintosh, Sir J. History of England..... 368.3
Scott, Sir W. History of Scotland 368.4
Moore, T. History of Ireland 368.5
Crowe, E. E. History of France 368.6
Wilson, J. History of Switzerland 368.7
Dunham, S. A. History of Spain and Portugal.. 368.8
History of the Germanic empire 368.9
Fergus, H. History of the United States..... 368.10

Shelf. No.

LARDNER, D., continued.
— — Dunham, S. A. History of Poland..... 378.9
— — — History of Denmark, Sweden, and Norway.. 378.10
— — Cooley, W. D. Maritime and inland discovery..... 378.11 — — Stebbing, H. History of the Christian church. 388.1
— — Sismondi, J. C. L. S. de. Fall of the Roman empire..... 378.5
— — Stebbing, H. History of the reformation..... 388.2

Biography.

— — Gleig, G. R. British military commanders... 388.3
— — Roscoe, H. Eminent British lawyers 388.4
— — Southey, R. British admirals..... 388.5
— — Mackintosh, J., Forster, J., and Courtenay, T. P. Eminent British statesmen 388.6
— — Crowe, E. E., and James, G. P. R. Eminent foreign statesmen. 388.7
— — Shelley, M. W., and others. Literary and scientific men of France... 388.8
— — — Literary and scientific men of Italy, Spain, and Portugal 398.1
— — Bell, R. English poets. 398.2
— — Dunham, S. A. Literary and scientific men of Great Britain and Ireland..... 398.3

Natural philosophy, etc.

— — Herschel, Sir J. F. W. Discourse on the study of natural philosophy.. 398.4
— — Powell, B. History of natural philosophy..... 398.5
— — Lardner, D. Arithmetic. 398.6
— — — Geometry 398.7
— — Kater, H., and Lardner, D. Mechanics..... 398.8
— — Lardner, D. Hydrostatics and pneumatics.... 398.9
— — Herschel, Sir J. F. W. Astronomy 398.10
— — Brewster, Sir D. Optics. 398.11
— — Lardner, D. Heat 398.12
— — Donovan, M. Chemistry..... 398.13
— — Lardner, D., and Walk-

LARDNER, D., continued.
— — Swainson, W. A mals in menageries.
— — — Natural history a classification of birds — — — Natural history fishes, amphibians, a reptiles .....
— — — Malacology .....
— — — History and natu arrangement of insec — — — Habits and instin of animals.....
— — — Taxidermy, with t biography of zoologis etc. .....
— — Henslow, J. S. Prin ples of descriptive a physiological botany.
— — Phillips, J. Geology

Useful arts.

— — Donovan, M. Dom tic economy .....
— — Porter, G. R. Manuf ture of silk .....
— — Holland, J. Manuf tures in metals .....
— — Porter, G. R. Manuf ture of porcelain a glass.....

— Mechanics; Pneumatic Newton's optics..v. 1
— Treatise on arithmetic — Treatise on geometry
— Treatise on heat .....
— Treatise on hydrostati and pneumatics.....
— Treatise on the steam e gine .....
— and Walker, C. V. Ma ual of electricity, ma netism and meteorolog 2 v. .....

LARRY LEIGH, pseud. Warner, L. T.

LAST day, Poem on th Young, E. .....v. 2 v. 2 of 329.14; v. 2

LAST days of Pompeii. M dina, L. H. .....

LAST man. Pitt, G. D. .. 1379 6. 2

LAST of the pigtails. Selb C. 1377.15; 1378.1

LATHAM, R. G. The En lish language .....
— Hand-book of the En lish language. Lond.
— — Same. N. Y. .....

Shelf. No.

continued.
natical tables..... 829.26
e on logarithms.. 829.26
on logic. See Eu-
..... 829.40
rnell, G. R. Rudi-of civil and hyengineering. 4 v.
..... 819.11
elow, L. J. Wit,
, asperities, and ies of the.....1816.10 s, D. Law of con-
..... 819.36
, D. Criminal
.....839:4; 849.11
les of criminal.
v. 3 of 850.25
awyers.....1819.20
, S. The law-
..... 1376.7
. Plato....v. 5 of 814.3
reatise on the.
, M. T..... 834.14
undy. Beaumont,
.....v. 5 of 351.2
. P. Remarkable
racies during the 6th, and 17th cen-
2 v..... 830.51
The. Lawrence,
..... 1376.7
Jeaffreson, J. C. about.....1816.12
H. Eminent
..... 388.4
ne brown rosary.
ing, E. B. .v. 2 of 335.10
of 335.11; v. 1 of 1326.3
e last minstrel.
Sir W. .....v. 2 of 312.1
31.3; 336.1; v. 1 of 336.2
v. 1 of 336.13; 336.14
v. 1 of 359.13; 359.14
1 of 902.1; v. 1 of 1318.3
v. 1 of 1329.2
aureate. Southey,
311.3, 13; v. 10 of 1318.7
. H., Discoveries
lied to the eluciof Holy Writ. See ii, J. 835.14
. Mind and brain.
..... 905.17
breviary. Schefer,
(I.).....1329.25
cient Rome. Ma-T. B., lord..... 324.13 any lands. Hem-
(D.) .....v. 2 of 324.2
1 of 347.2; v. 2 of 347.5

Shelf. No.

LEAR, King. Shakespeare, W.....v. 7 of 313.1; 322.3
v. 5 of 322.4; v. 9 of 325.1
v. 9 of 326.1; v. 7 of 326.2
v. 6 of 337.2; v. 4 of 354.1
v. 4 of 359.18; v. 6 of 394.7
v. 8 of 1326.1; v. 11 of 1394.1
LEARNED world. Clark, W. A. 1394.9
LEARNING. Addison, J. Ancient and modern. v. 5 of 847.7
— Bacon, F., lord. Dignity and advancement of.... 826.7
v. 1 of 901.2
LEAVES from the diary of a poor school-master. Howitt, W. 825.5
LEAVITT, J. M. Afranius, and The Idumean, with The Roman martyrs and other poems.....1348.19
LEE, C. A. Elements of geology 820.71
LEE, H. The avenger..... 1369.8
1379.3; 1381.2
LEE, N. The rival queens. v. 1 of 331.1; v. 6 of 354.1
— Theodosius .....v. 1 of 331.1
— Œdipus. See Dryden, J. v. 15 of 1389.1
LEE, S. A. The book of the sonnet. See Hunt, (J. H.) Leigh.....1346.10
LEEDS, W. H. Rudimentary architecture 819.12
LEGAL tales..... 815.2
LEGARÉ, H. S. Writings. 2 v. 872.3
LEGEND of good women. Chaucer, G. .....v. 5 of 319.5
v. 2 of 355.4; 372.5
LEGEND of Montrose. Scott, Sir W. .....v. 3 of 902.1
LEGEND of the hounds. Boker, G. H. 1357.17
LEGENDS and lyrics. Procter, A. A. 339.8
LEGENDS of the isles. Mackay, C. 1327.20
LEGENDS of the round table. Bridges, S. 1405.3
LEGGE, T. Latin play of Richardus Tertius. See Field, B..... 342.20
LEGRAND, L. Dime dialogues 1397.20
LEIGH, Larry, pseud. See Warner, L. T.
LEIPSIC campaign. Gleig, G. R.....409.7; 1655.14

Shelf. No.

LELAND, O. S. Beatrice...13
1379.1; 13
— Caprice..1369.16; 1578.2; 1
— The rights of man 13
1378.2, 20; 1
LEMON, M. Grandfather Whitehead.....1367.2; 1
— Gwynneth Vaughan.....13 13
— Hearts are trumps 13
— The jest book..... 8
— Mind your own business. 1368.3; 1
— Don Cæsar de Bazan. See À Beckett, G. A. .. 1
LEMURS, Natural history of. 8
LEND me five shillings. Morton, J. M. 1367.3; 1
LEO X, Life and pontificate of. See Roscoe, W....
LEONOR de Guzman. Boker, G. H. .....v. 1 of LE PILEUR, A. Wonders of the human body..... 1
LEPSIUS, (C.) R. Letters from Egypt, Ethiopia, and Sinai.....
LEQUEL, L. Identity; or, no thoroughfare. Dramatized from C. Dickens and W. Collins.....13
LE SAGE, A. R. Adventures of Gil Blas of Santillane. 8
LESLIE, J. Discovery and adventure in the polar seas. See Murray, H. 8 LESSING, G. E. Nathan the Wise. Emilia Galotti. Leip.....13
— Nathan the Wise. N. Y.13
LESSONS in life. Holland, J. G. .....
LESSONS of middle age. Boyd, A. K. H. 1817.16; 19
LETHE. Garrick, D. ..v. 5 of LETTER-CARRIER, Footprints of a. Rees, J..... 1
LETTER-WRITING, Pocket manual of 4
LETTERS, Love in. Grant, A. 1
LETTERS from the shores of the Baltic..... 8
LETTERS from the South by a Northern man. Paulding, J. K. 8
LETTERS of Peregrine Pickle. Upton, G. P. 18
LETTERS to a young man. De Quincey, T. .....
LETTERS to the Joneses. Hol-

Shelf. No.

ES, M. J., formerly Miss Evans. (George Eliot.)
How Lisa loved the king.1339.26
he Spanish gypsy..... 1348.7
IS, E. A. Myths of the minstrel..... 1327.6
IS, M. G. Adelgitha...1369.19 1379.23; 1384.3
he castle specter.1369.5; 1388.7
aymond and Agnes.... 1369.2 1388.34
esidence in the West Indies..... 889.30
IS and Clarke's expedition. Allen, P..... 820.52
RTY. Thomson, J.v. 1 of 329.13
v. 1 of 1319.3; 1409.11
RTY's ordeal. Bishop, P. P.....1347.16
ARIES. Bentley's library standard novels. 1502.1–1506.23
ohn, H. G. Antiquarian library .....846.1, etc.
Classical library....814.1, etc.
Ecclesiastical library..845.1–9
Illustrated library..815.1, etc.
Library of French memoirs 857.4, 5
Philological and philosophical library.....855.1–8
Scientific library ...816.1, etc.
Standard library....817.1, etc.
onstable, A. Miscellany 830.25–70 oodrich, S. G. Parley's cabinet library.... 1869.1
arper's boys' and girls' library 1859.1–19 arper's classical library 830.8–24
arper's family library. 810.1, etc.
lustrated library of wonders.....184.41, etc.
rdine, W. The naturalist's library 179.1 night, C. Weekly and monthly volumes....840.1, etc. ardner, D. Cabinet cyclopædia.....368.1, etc.
ondon. Society for the diffusion of useful knowledge. Library of entertaining knowledge ..839.1, etc.
— Library of useful knowledge 365.1–18 odern British essayists.863.1-11
urray, J. Family library.....379.1, etc.
Home and colonial library 889.1–34

Shelf. No.

LICHEN tufts. Wright, E. C.1817.15
LICINIUS. Bulwer-Lytton, (E.) R. 1338.17
LIEBER, F. Character of the gentleman..... 866.14
— Property and labour 820.47
LIFE. Schlegel, (C. W.) F. von. Philosophy of.... 828.8
— Taylor, H. Notes from.. 898.21
LIFE, here and there. Willis, N. P..... 904.3
LIFE and books. Boyes, J. F. 385.10
LIFE and death of Jason. Morris, W. 1348.1
LIFE and death of T. L. Cromwell .....v. 1 of 331.2
LIFE and manners. De Quincey, T. 895.10
LIFE below.....1348.14
LIFE in New York. Brougham, J. 1376.13; 1388.20
LIFE memories. Rand, E. S., jr...... 375.24
LIFE of Jesus Christ. Neander, (J.) A. (W.) 848.8
LIFE-WAKE of the fine Arkansas gentleman. Savage, J..... 822.1
LIFE without and life within. Ossoli, S. M. F., marchesa d'..... 903.18
LIFE's a dream. Calderon de la Barca, P. de..... 898.11
LIFE's ransom. Marston, (J.) W. 1369.14; 1379.1
LIGHT, Double refraction and polarization of. Brewster, Sir D...v. 1 of 365.14
"LIGHT in dark places." Neander, (J.) A. (W.).. 858.7
LIGHTHOUSES. Stevenson, A. 819.34
LIKE unto like. Calvert, G. H. 356.4
LIKELIEST means to remove hirelings out of the church. Milton, J...v. 3 of 838.7
LILLO, G. Dramatic works. 2 v. 356.18

Contents.—Vol. I. Life, by T. Davies; Silvia; George Barnwell; Life of Scanderbeg; The Christian hero. II. Fatal curiosity; Marina; Elmerick; Britannia and Batavi; Arden of Feversham.

— Arden of Feversham.v. 2 of 331.1
— Fatal curiosity.....v. 2 of 331.1
v. 11 of 354.1
— George Barnwell. Lond. v. 2 of 331.1
v. 11 of 354.1; v. 14 of 1389.1
— – Same. N. Y....1368.2; 1388.4
LIMERICK boy. Pilgrim, J.

LINGUA. Brewer, A. ..v
LIONEL and Clarissa. B erstaff, I. .....v.
v. 1
LIPPINCOTT, S. J. (G Greenwood.) Poems
— Records of five years.
LIPPINCOTT's magazine. V
1–3. 3 v. .....
LITERARY addresses. 3 v LITERARY essays and char ters. Hallam, H. ..
LITERARY life, Recollecti of a. Mitford, M. R.
LITERARY men of Fran Shelley, M. W. .....
LITERARY men of Great B ain. Dunham, S. A.
LITERARY men of Ita
Spain, and Portug
Shelley, M. W. .....
LITERARY recreations a miscellanies. Whitti
J. G. .....v. 2
LITERARY reminiscenc
De Quincey, T. .....
LITERARY reminiscenc
Hood, T. .....
LITERATI, The. Poe, E.
v.
LITERATURE. Botta, A.
L. Hand-book of u versal.....386
— Brougham, H., lord. O
jects and uses of.....
— Cleveland, C. D. Co
pendium of classical..
— Disraeli, I. Amenities
404 — – Curiosities of.....
402.5
— Gilman, S. Contrib
tions to.....
— Goodrich, S. G. Ancie
and modern.....
— – Book of.....v. 15
— Grant, J. Walks a wanderings in the wor
of.....
— Grimké, T. S. Charact and objects of .....
— Hamilton, Sir W. Di
cussions on.....
— Hillhouse, J. A. Rel
tions of literature to republican governmen
v. 2
— Jameson, A. (M.) Essay illustrative of.....
— – Literature and art.876.
— Landreth, P. Studies a

Shelf. No.

E, continued. ill, W. History of ire to the 15th y 402.8
e, E. P. Lectures
jects connected
..... 875.13
C. Essays in.... 403.17
t, R. A. Pleas-tc., of..... 395.6

—For the literature of r countries and lan-see under their sever-

E. Living age.
40. 40 v..... 1820.1
ns from Living
..... 1833.1
efoot. Waldauer,
.....1369.20
French lawyer. ont, F. .....v. 3 of 351.2
ddlekins. Math-
.....1377.12
1378.18; 1388.25, 30
easure. Harris,
.....1368.7; 1378.2
learn. Over 1000 es corrected..... 406.16
in in the mines.
Block"..1376.17; 1388.23
voyages of Drake, lish, and Damncluding earlier eries in the South
d the history of caneers 810.41
itish physicians. 389.13
minent persons... 365.18

ts.—Galileo; Kelper; Mahomet; Wolsey; oke; Lord Somers; Blake; Adam Smith; ; Sir C. Wren; Mi-gelo.

the apostles and martyrs of the .....1859.1
llosophy of. Tick-
..... 810.72
s, Mrs. O. M.
.....1326.21
NE, D. Cambridge
s 894.4
AVINUS, T. His-
Rome. Lond. 4 v. 814.4
N. Y. 5 v..... 830.19
ales 889.31

ts.—The disponent; ves; The Jewess.

Mathematical

Shelf. No.

LOCKE, D. R., continued.
— "Swingin round the cirkle" 1886.2
LOCKE, J. Works. 2 v.... 827.4
— Life and letters 857.11
— Conduct of the understanding. See Bacon, F., lord 820.65
LOCKE and Sydenham. Brown, J. 894.13
LOCKHART, J. G. Ancient Spanish ballads. Lond. 316.14
— — Same. Bost. 316.1
— History of Napoleon Buonaparte. Lond. 2 v... 389.14
— — Same. N. Y. 2 v.... 810.2
— Life of Robert Burns.... 830.39
— Life of Sir W. Scott. v. 10 of 902.1
— Noctes ambrosianæ. See Wilson, J..... 865.1
LOCKS, Construction of. Tomlinson, C. 829,17
LOCOMOTION. Sewell, J.... 829.10
LODGE, E. Portraits of illustrious personages of Great Britain. 8 v. 815.1
LODOISKA. Kemble, J. P. v. 7 of 354.2
LOEW'S bridge. Tucker, M. E. 1327.23
LOGAN, C. A. Yankee land. 1377.7; 1378.2, 14; 1388.28
LOGAN, J. Poems; and Runnamede 349.24
LOGARITHMS. Law, H..... 829.26
LOGIC. Aristoteles. Logical treatises 834.12
— Devey, J. Science of inference..... 855.4
— Gerhart, E. V. Outline treatise on 403.8
— Latham, R. G. Its application to language 403.6
— Law, H. Essay on 829.40
— MacGregor, P. System of. 393.11
— Mahan, A. Science of.. 403.7
LOMBARDY, Tour through Austrian. Barrow, Sir J. 409.26; 1655.2
LONDON. De Foe, D. Great fire in 1666.....v. 5 of 833.9
— — Plague in 1665....v. 5 of 833.9
— Grant, J. The great metropolis 868.8
— Head, Sir F. B. London and North-western railway..... 889.23
— Illustrated London instructor..... 405.3
— MacCulloch, J. R. Lon-

Sh

LONDON, continued.
— — — Craik, G. L. Pursuit of knowledge under difficulties .....
— — — Davis, Sir J. F. The Chinese .....
— — — Ellis, Sir H. Elgin and Phigaleian marbles.
— — — — Townley gallery of classic sculpture.....
— — — The Hindoos 8
— — — Insect miscellanies.. 8
— — — Insect transformations..... 8
— — — Jardine, D. Criminal trials .....
— — — Lane, E. W. Modern Egyptians .....
— — — Lankester, E. Vegetable substances used for the food of man.....
— — — Long, G. Egyptian antiquities in the British museum.....
— — — Malkin, J. H. Historical parallels 8
— — — Menageries. Natural history of monkeys, etc. 8 — — — Menageries. Quadrupeds, etc. 8
— — — New Zealanders.....
— — — Paris and its historical scenes .....
— — — Planché, J. R. British costume .....
— — — Rennie, J. Architecture of birds.....
— — — — Domestic habits of birds..... 8
— — — — Faculties of birds.. 8
— — — — Insect architecture. 8
— — — Secret societies of the middle ages.....
— — — Trail, C. P. Backwoods of Canada.....
— — — Vegetable substances; materials of manufactures.....
— — — Vegetable substances used in the arts.....

— — — Same. Bost. 14 v. Containing:— — — — Craik, G. L. Pursuit of knowledge under difficulties 8
— — — Insect miscellanies .. 8
— — — Insect transformations 8
— — — Jardine, D. Criminal trials..... 8

Shelf. No.

ON, continued.
Library of useful knowledge. 17 v. Containing:— — Brougham, H., lord. Account of Lord Bacon's Novum organon scientiarum..... 365.11
— Busk, M. M. History of Spain and Portugal, B. C. 1000 to A. D. 1814... 365.1
— De Morgan, A. Differential and integral calculus..... 365.2
— History of the American revolution..... 365.11
— Lives of eminent persons..... 365.18
— Long, G. Geography of America and the West Indies..... 365.3
— — and Porter, G. R. Geography of Great Britain..... 365.10
— Malkin, F. History of Greece..... 365.6
— Merivale, C. History of Rome under the emperors..... 365.9
— Morton, P. Geometry, plane, solid, and spherical..... 365.4
— Mueller, C. O. Literature of ancient Greece. Vol. 1..... 365.11 — Natural philosophy. v..... 365.14

Contents.—Vol. I. Objects, advantages, and pleasures of science, by H., lord Brougham; Mechanics, [three treatises, by D. Lardner]; Hydrostatics, [by Lord Brougham]; Hydraulics, [by J. Millington]; Pneumatics, [by D. Lardner]; Heat, [by Mr. Ogg]; Optics, [by Sir D. Brewster]; Double refraction and polarization of light, [by the same], with an explanation of scientific terms, and an index prefixed [by D. Booth]. II. Popular introductions to natural philosophy, [by Mrs. J. Marcet]; Newton's optics, [by D. Lardner]; Description of optical instruments, [by A. Pritchard]; The thermometer and pyrometer, [by T. Stewart Traill]; Electricity, galvanism, magnetism, electro-magnetism, [by P. M. Roget], with an examination of scientific terms, and an index [by D. Booth]. III. Astronomy, [by Sir B. Malkin]; History of astronomy, [by R. W. Rothman];

Shelf. No.

LONDON, continued.
— — Waud, S. W. Algebraical geometry, arithmetic and algebra..... 365.17 LONDON assurance. Boucicault, D. (L.)..... 1367.4
LONDON poems. Buchanan, R. 1328.4
LONDON prodigal.....v. 1 of 331.2
LONDON society. Vol. 1–16. 16 v. 1814.1
LONDON times, Essays from the 899.13, 14
LONG, G. Cyclopædia of political knowledge. 4 v. 859.5
— Egyptian antiquities in the British museum. 2 v. 839.7
— Geography of America and the West Indies.... 365.3
— and Porter, G. R. Geography of Great Britain. P. 1. England and Wales..... 365.10
LONGEVITY, Promotion of. Smith, (T.) S..... 850.15
LONGFELLOW, H. W. Poems. 2 v. 333.1

Contents.—Vol. I. Voices of the night; Earlier poems; Translations; Ballads; The children of the Lord's supper, translated from E. Tegnér; Miscellaneous; Poems on slavery; The Spanish student. II. The belfry of Bruges, and other poems; Songs; Sonnets; Translations; Curfew; Evangeline; The seaside and the fireside; Translations.

— Poetical works. Leip. 3 v. in 2.....1409.15

Contents.—Vol. I. Voices of the night; Earlier poems; Translations; Ballads; The children of the Lord's supper, translated from E. Tegnér; Miscellaneous; Poems on slavery; The Spanish student; The belfry of Bruges, and other poems; Songs; Sonnets; Translations; Curfew; Evangeline; The seaside and the fireside. II [2]. The golden legend; The song of Hiawatha. [3] Tales of a wayside inn; The courtship of Miles Standish; Birds of passage.

— — Same. Lond. 843.8

Contents. — Evangeline; Voices of the night; The seaside and the fireside; Poems on slavery; Ballads, songs, and sonnets; Earlier poems; Miscellaneous poems; The golden legend; The courtship of Miles Standish; Birds of passage; The song of Hiawatha; Trans-

LONGFELLOW, H. W., con
— Household poems....
— New-England tragedi
— Poets and poetry of E rope .....
— The song of Hiawath
— The Spanish student .
— Tales of a wayside in — Voices of the night..
— The waif.....
LONGFELLOW, S., and H ginson, T. W. Thalat LONSDALE, J., viscount. Lowther, J.
LOO-CHOO island, Voya to. Hall, B.....v. 1
LOOK before you leap. L ell, G. W. 1367
LOOKER-ON. Roberts, v. 41–44
LOOKING at life. Sala, G.
LOOKING glass for Lond and England. Gree R. .....v.
LOOKING toward suns Child, L. M. .....
LOOMIS, A. W. Confuci and the Chinese cl sics .....
LOPE DE VEGA. Lewes, G.
LORD, D. N. Figurati language .....
LORD, W. W. André....
LORD of the isles. Sco Sir W. .....33 v. 5 of 336.2; v. 2 v. 6 of 359.1 v. 1 of 902.1; v. 5 v. 2 of 1329.
LORD of the manor. Bu goyne, Gen. J. ...v. 1 LORDS, Random recolle tions of the house Grant, J. .....
LORENZO de'Medici, Life See Roscoe, W. .....
LOSSING, B. J. Outline h tory of the fine arts..
LOST ship, The. Townsen T. ...1369.17; 1378.16
LOST tales of Miletus. Bu wer-Lytton, E. (G. L.).....1338.20
LOTTERY ticket. Buckston J. B. .....
LOUIS II de Bourbon, prin of Condé, Life of. Stanhope, P. H.....
LOUIS IX, Saint, of Franc Crusade of.....
LOUIS XI, of France, Histo

Shelf. No.

mode. Macklin,
. 5 of 331.1; v. 1 of 354.2
intrigue. Schiller,
) F. von....478.1; 818.12
land. Scanlan,
..... 1357.3
loyalty. Robson,
..1369.10; 1379.1; 1380.1
murder. Brough-
.....356.17; 1376.9
SE, The. Knowles,
....v. 2 of 1357.1; 1367.3
love. Congreve,
.....v. 3 of 331.1
.3 of 354.1; v. 1 of 1389.1
riddle. Cibber,
.....v. 4 of 357.13
village. Bicker-
.....v. 5 of 331.1
of 354.1; v. 10 of 1389.1
imble life. Payne,
.....1376.15; 1388.16
etters. Grant, A. 1828.9
very. Wooler, J.
..... 1377.8
379.8, 10; 1383.1; 1388.38
6. Bunce, O. ...1376.14 1388.15
r, The. Coyne, J.
.1369.18; 1379.2; 1388.43
es a man. Cib-
.....v. 3 of 331.1
9 of 354.1; v. 1 of 357.13
v. 1 of 1389.1
prince. Gayler, 368.12; 1378.15; 1388.10
fame. Young, E.
v. 1 of 312.1
! of 314.12; v. 2 of 1319.9
AGES in the lives
very-day people.
t, W..... 825.5
y. Southey, R. 409.32
e. Beaumont, F.
v. 9 of 351.2
our's lost. Shake-
, W.....v. 2 of 313.1
v. 1 of 322.4; v. 2 of 325.1
f 326.1; v. 2 of 326.2
f 359.18; v. 1 of 394.7
1326.1; 1369.16; 1379.15
v. 3 of 1394.1
t shift. Cibber,
.....v. 1 of 357.13
grimace. Beau-
F.....v. 11 of 351.2
rifice. Forde, J.
. 1 of 353.9; v. 2 of 359.7
rifice. Lovell, G.
1367.2; 1378.13
. Love's sacrifice.

Shelf. No.

LOVER'S complaint. Shakespeare, W. ..313.2; v. 7 of 322.4 v. 8 of 326.2; 329.9; v. 7 of 394.7 1318.4; v. 1 of 1394.1
LOVER'S, A, diary. Cary, A.1329.11
LOVER'S melancholy. Forde, J. ..v. 1 of 353.9; v. 1 of 359.7
LOVERS of Gudrun. Morris, W.....1346.16
LOVERS', The, progress. Beaumont, F. ....v. 11 of 351.2
LOVERS' vows, altered from Kotzebue. Inchbald, E. v. 23 of 354.1
LOVES of the angels. Moore, T. ..v. 4 of 394.8; v. 6 of 1317.13
LOVES of the poets. Jameson, A. (M.)..... 359.11
LOWE, M. P. Love in Spain, and other poems.....1328.27
— The olive and the pine... 375.15
LOWELL, A. C. Gleanings from the poets.....1395.27
LOWELL, J. R. Among my books.....1816.19
— Biglow papers. 2 v..... 1326.8
— – Same. See Sala, G. A. 1886.7
— The cathedral.....1348.24
— Conversations on some of the old poets..... 344.17
— Fireside travels..... 813.3
— Poems 346.17
— Under the willows and other poems.....1348.17
— Vision of Sir Launfal.... 346.17
LOWELL, R. Poems..... 372.7
LOWELL offering, Selections from the..... 840.46
LOWNDES, W. Plato; Seneca — the Stoical philosophy 395.14
LOWTHER, J., viscount Lonsdale. Reign of James II. 837.10
LOYAL subject. Beaumont, F. .....v. 6 of 351.2
LUCANUS, M. A. Pharsalia.. 834.5
— – Same. First book. See Marlowe, C.....v. 3 of 356.5
LUCAS, D. B. The wreath of eglantine, and other poems..... 1345.8
LUCAS, W. J. The man with the iron mask..... 1369.7 1382.1; 1383.3
LUCIAN, Comedies of. See Maginn, W. 346.4
LUCILE. Bulwer-Lytton, (E.) R. 1326.18
LUCILIUS. Satires. See Juvenalis, D. J. 824.13
LUCKY hit. Paul, J. H.

She

LUKE the labourer. Buckstone, J. B. 1
LUMP of gold. Mackay, C. .133
LUNN, P. Greek physics. See Barlow, P. 3
LUNT, Mrs. Forget-me-not; or the philipena.....133
LUNT, G. Age of gold, and other poems 3 — Culture..... 3
— Lyric poems, sonnets and miscellanies 133
— Three eras of New England, [etc.] 8
LURIA. Browning, R. .v. 2 of 3
LUTHER, M. Table talk. Lond. 1848..... 8
— – Same. Lond. 1857.... 8
— Life. See Michelet, J. .. 8
LYAR, The. Foote, S. .v. 5 of 3 v. 5 of 3
LYING valet. Garrick, D. v. 5 of 331.1; v. 4 of 3
LYLIE'S Endymion compared with Oberon's vision. Halpin, N. J. 3
LYLY, J. Alexander and Campaspe.....v. 1 of 3
LYNCH, A. C. The Rhode-Island book.....
LYNCH, T. J. The rose of Ettrick vale.....1 1381.3; 13
LYND, J. First book of etymology.....
LYRA Anglicana. Baynes, R. H. 1
LYRA domestica. Spitta, C. J. P. 3
LYRA sacra Americana. Cleveland, C. D. 13
LYRICAL poems done into English verse. Béranger, P. J. de.....
LYRICS for freedom; and other poems 13 LYRICS of Ireland. Lover, S.
LYRICS of life. Browning, R. 1
LYRICS of loyalty. Moore, F. 3
LYSISTRATA. Aristophanes. v. 2 of 8
LYTERIA. Quincy, J. P. .345.1
LYTTON, (E.) R. B. See Bulwer-Lytton, (E.) R.
LYTTON, Lord. See Bulwer-Lytton, E. (G. E. L.), lord Lytton.

MACAULAY, T. B., lord. Biographical and historical sketches..... 8

Shelf. No.

AULAY, T. B., continued.
ife and writings of Addison 409.17; 1655.19 ord Bacon.....409.17; 1655.20 ord Byron.....409.18; 1655.20 ord Clive.....409.19; 1655.19
anke's History of the popes.....409.20; 1655.19
amuel Johnson.....1655.19
peeches and poems. 2 v. 1815.6
peeches on parliamentary reform, in 1831, 32. 409.18; 1655.20
Warren Hastings.409.19; 1655.19
William Pitt, earl of Chatham.....409.20; 1655.19
BETH. Shakespeare, W. v. 3 of 313.1; 322.3
v. 5 of 322.4; v. 4 of 325.1
v. 4 of 326.1; v. 7 of 326.2
v. 6 of 337.2; v. 4 of 354.1
v. 2 of 359.18; v. 5 of 394.7
v. 9 of 1326.1; 1367.7; 1388.3
v. 10 of 1394.1
BETH travestie. Northall, W. K.....1376.5; 1378.4
CULLOCH [McCulloch], J. R. London in 1850, 51 .....409.21; 1655.25
Russia and Turkey..... 409.28
1655.6
DONALD, W., earl of Oxford. The fair apostate. v. 2 of 331.1
DUFF'S cross. Scott, Sir W. .....331.3; v. 6 of 336.2
v. 8 of 902.1; v. 8 of 1318.3
FARLANE, C. The camp of refuge. 2 v..... 840.40
he Dutch in the Medway. 840.37
A legend of Reading abbey 840.33
Popular customs, sports, and recollections of the south of Italy..... 840.36
Romance of travel. The East. 2 v. 840.38
FARREN, —. Winning a husband 1376.16; 1378.4
FINGAL (M'Fingal). Trumbull, J..v. 1 of 314.9; 1347.1
FLECNOE. Dryden, J. v. 2 of 319.8; v. 1 of 369.3
385.7; v. 2 of 1316.12
GILLIVRAY, W. Alexander von Humboldt in America and Asiatic Russia..... 810.54
GREGOR [McGregor], P. System of logic..... 393.11
HIAVELLI, N. History

Shelf. No.

MACKAY, C., continued.
— Legends of the isles and Highland gatherings ...1327.20
— The lump of gold: and other poems.....1327.19
— Memoirs of extraordinary popular delusions and the madness of crowds. 2 v..... 879.8
— Voices from the crowd, and town lyrics.....1327.22
— Voices from the mountains and from the crowd 1326.12
MACKEEVER [M'Keever], H. B. Children with the poets.....1326.13
MACKENZIE, A. S. Life of O. H. Perry. 2 v. 820.31
MACKENZIE, H. The mirror. Lond. 1790. 3 v. 878.21
— - Same. Lond. 1817. 2 v. v. 34, 35 of 850.24
— Lounger. 2 v..v. 36, 37 of 850.24
MACKINTOSH, Sir J. Lives of eminent British statesmen. 7 v..... 388.6
— Miscellaneous works 863.8
— Wallace, W., and Bell, R. History of England. 10 v. 368.3
MACLACHLAN [McLachlan], C. I dine with my mother..1376.14; 1379.16; 1388.15
MACKLIN, C. Love à-la-mode..v. 5 of 331.1; v. 1 of 354.2
— The man of the world. v. 14 of 354.1
MACMILLAN'S magazine. Vol. 5–10, 12–14. 9 v. 1873.1
MACNICOLL [McNicoll], T. Essays on English literature..... 395.27
MACQUEEN [McQueen], H. Orator's touchstone.... 405.8
MACREADY, W. The Irishman in London..1376.18; 1378.6
MAD dogs. Moore, J. 1377.4
MAD lover, The. Beaumont, F.....v. 6 of 351.2
MAD prophet, The. Giraud, G..... 345.3
MAD world, my masters. Middleton, T. ....v. 2 of 331.2
MADDEN, R. R. Infirmities of genius. 2 v. in 1.... 887.7
MADDOX, J. M. The king and deserter ..1369.17; 1379.26
MADELAINE, the belle of the Faubourg 1369.11
1380.2; 1384.2; 1388.40
MADEMOISELLE de Belle Isle.

Shelf. No.

MAGINN, W., continued.
— Homeric ballads and C... edies of Lucian .....
— Odoherty papers. 2 v
— Noctes ambrosianæ. ... Wilson, J.....
MAGISTRATE, Duties of Cicero, M. T. .....
MAGNETISM. Harris, Sir S. Rudimentary ...
— Lardner, D. Manual
— Roget, P. M. Magneti... v. 2
See also Electricity.
MAGNYFYCENCE. Skelton v. 2
MAGYARS, Poetry of t... Bowring, Sir J. .....
MAHABHARATA, Extra... from the. Milman, H.....v.
MAHAN, A. Science of log MAHOMET. Voltaire, F. (A.) de..v. 2 of 331.1; v.
MAHON, Lord. See Stanho... P. H.
MAHONY, F. (Oliver York) Reliques of Fat... Prout .....
MAID in the mill. Beaumo... F.....v.
MAID of Bath. Foote, ... v.
MAID of Croissey. Go... Mrs. C. .....1376.
MAID of honour. Massing... P.....
v. 3 of 353.8; v.
MAID of Marciendor... Knowles, J. S. ...v.
MAID of Orleans. Schill... (J. C.) F. von .....
MAID of Orleans, Vision... the. Southey, R..... v.
MAID of the mill. Bick... staff, I.....v.
v. 17 of 354.1; v. 1
MAID of the oaks. Burgoy... Gen. J. .....v.
v. 5 of 331.1; v.
MAID with the milking p... Buckstone, J. B. .....
1378.18;
MAID's tragedy. Beaumo... F.....v.
v. 1 of 351
MAIL bags, Ten years amo... the. Holbrook, J...
MAIN, R. Rudimentary ... tronomy.....

Boston Public Library
Central Library, Copley Square

Division of Reference and Research Services

The Date Due Card in the pocket indicates the date on or before which this book should be returned to the Library.

Please do not remove cards from this pocket.